LIGHT VOTE ON GAS REFERENDUM

VOTERS SLOW TO VISIT POLLS

Only Exception is Precinct 2 of Ward 9 Where Voting is Lively

Percentage of Women Voters Better Than Figures for Male Voters

Lowell voters, men and women alike, did not hurry to the polls this morning to vote on the proposed municipal purchase and operation of the gas light company's plant. In many precincts visited by Sun men between 8 and 12 o'clock wardens reported the vote as unusually light. It was remarkably quiet in most of the wards, the usual display of automobiles in front of polling places being missing except in the more central precincts.

Up to noon, when the real rush of votes came along augmented by the ballots of mill workers and others of regular occupations, the total vote cast, as estimated by election commissioners familiar with the vote of previous years at special and state elections, was the smallest ever known with the exception of a ward or two in the High street territory, where the vote in at least one precinct surprised the officials in charge of the ballot box.

At noon 71 votes had been dropped into the box in precinct 1, ward 1, Market street. The election officials here expressed themselves as surprised at "the small vote," but thought the electorate would be on hand during the noon hour and after 3 p. m. and swell the figures to about the size recorded at previous special elections.

On the Market street voting lists are the names of 612 men and women.

MEDICAL EXAMINER SUBMITS REPORT

"Louis Sinasis died of pistol wounds of the chest and abdomen, shot by a police officer while resisting arrest armed with a weapon." That is the report submitted to the police today by Medical Examiner Thomas H. Smith following the autopsy performed on Sinasis' body in the undertaking rooms of C. H. Molloy, on Market street, yesterday. Louis Sinasis is the man shot and killed by Officer William L. Keegan, Saturday night, following a disturbance in a dinner street coffee house. The theory that Officer Keegan fired at the man, who was threatening the policeman with a revolver in self defense, appears strengthened by the medical examiner's report.

Police authorities are convinced that the shooting was justifiable, although as the law requires it, an inquest will be held at a near date.

Bambino Quits When Physician Warns Him That Further Chances Might Cause Loss of Arm

POLO GROUND, N. Y., Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The shadow of Harry Harper fell this afternoon athwart the path of the Giants in their struggle to even the world's series with the Yankees. The National Leagueers have yet to face a left-hander in the series and as Wally Schang, the Yankee catcher put it, before the game: "If Harper gets that old curve swishing across the corners of the plate, the Giants will be through for the day."

"When He's Good He's Very Good" "Hackensack" Harry Harper, his mates say, is like the girl with the curl—when he is good, he's good and when he's bad, he's not good. Manager Huggins said Shawkey and Quinn would be held in reserve.

The Yankees, with one game lead, can take a gamble today; not so the Giants, who must capture the contest to have even a fair chance of winning the series.

Manager McGraw looked to big Fred Toney, who was knocked out of the box last week, and to Jess Barnes, who went to Toney's rescue, and pitched a brilliant game.

Yanks Bemoan Loss of "Babe"

The Yankee fans bemoaned the loss of Babe Ruth, who will wield no menacing mace again on this series. The massive mauler's arm is swollen and poison from his infected elbow has spread to the glands of the upper arm. He telephoned to the Yankee clubhouse today that he would not be able to play again. Manager Huggins was prepared to play Bob Meusel in left and Wilson Fawcett in right field.

DEMANDS PROBE OF KU KLUX KLAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Demand for an investigation of the activities of the Ku Klux Klan was made before the house rules committee today by Representative Tague, democrat, Massachusetts.

Called as the first witness at hearings on a number of resolutions providing for an inquiry by congress, Mr. Tague said he first directed the attention of the department of justice toward the plan prior to change of administrations last March.

Later he took up the question with Attorney General Daugherty and was informed that the department's own inquiry, then under way, showed there was foundation for some of the charges against the Klan.

"There is no law to permit men to go out in the dark and take me or my family from my home to punish me, whether I am black or white, Catholic or Jew," Mr. Tague declared, "if the charges as published are true, it is time for congress to put out its hand and stop it."

Today's Lineup:

The lineup for today's game follows:
GIANTS: Burns, cf; Bancroft, ss; Frisch, 3b; Young, rf; Kelly, 1b; E. Meusel, lf; Rawlings, 2b; Snyder, c; Toney, p.
YANKEES: R. Fawcett, ss; Peckinpaugh, rf; Miller, 1b; Pipp, 2b; Ward, 3b; McNally, c; Schang, p; p. Harper.

Umpires: Moriarty at the plate; Quigley at first base; Chitt at second base; Rigler at third base.

It was learned at the clubhouse that Walter Hoyt had pitched eight innings yesterday with a finger split by a grounder from Frisch's bat. He refused to leave the game.

The day was bright and clear and the sun toasted the early comers in the bleachers. The crowd came late. The Yankees today played host to the Giants, who were the visitors.

The batteries for today's game are: Toney and Snyder for the Giants and Harper and Schang for the Yankees.

A small reward is offered for their apprehension and return to the state authorities.

THREE VERDICTS IN SUPERIOR COURT

Three verdicts were rendered at the civil session of the superior court this morning, two in the cross suits of James Ireland and Charles E. Crockett, actions of tort in which both parties attempted to recover for alleged damages to their automobiles as a result of a collision between the two machines, which occurred in Bedford in October, 1919, and the other in the case of May Percy vs. J. Kress of Lawrence, another case resulting from an automobile collision. In the case of Ireland vs. Crockett, a verdict of $1875 was rendered for the plaintiff, while in the case of Crockett vs. Ireland, a verdict was rendered for the defense. In the case of Percy vs. Kress, a verdict was also rendered for the plaintiff.

Pelletier to Run for Mayor

court to remove Joseph C. Pelletier from office as district attorney of Suffolk county, will not be formally filed with the court for some days, Mr. Allen said today.

Specifications are being prepared, he attorney general announced after a conference with Henry F. Hurlburt, president of the Boston Bar association. It is probable, he said, that the bar association which brought the matter to his attention, will join in the action. The attorney general has refused to make the charges public until they are filed with the court.

District Attorney Pelletier announced today that he would be a candidate for mayor of Boston at the election in December and characterized the move of the attorney general to have him removed from office as a "political maneuver" to drive him out which he said would not work.

The district attorney added that he would not resign.

Voters Slow to Visit Polls

Continued

Six women voted here before 11 o'clock. Over in Hoxford square 149 votes had been cast before 11 o'clock with half a dozen women marking ballots. The officials here reported everything quiet for a special election of such importance. They looked for a vote way below normal.

Precinct 1, ward 5, Church street, just before 10:30, had received the ballots of 10 men and six women. The officials considered it a pretty quiet start and thought the voters were not turning out. The officials figured that about 150 would vote out of a normal vote of around 500. Warden Gill said the percentage of women voters all over the city was better than the figures for male voters.

One hundred and eighty ballots were still in the big box in precinct 1, ward 5, just before noon, so the figures on the machine registered. Twenty-one women voted bright and early and none of them wanted any help in marking the ballots.

One of the early voters up on High street was Everett M. Gardner, the architect. He cast the 21st vote in precinct 2, ward 5 Moody street, just before 11 o'clock. The normal vote of this ward before noon is around 250 and downtown folks who heard of this somewhat remarkable vote, wondered, at first, if the vote was drawn up from the school, and there had evidently been a concerted attempt to "get out the vote." In some precincts where there were more in line, the vote this morning was unusually small and slow. But the High street electorate got out bright and early, and the result was a record for this ward.

Prospects of a big total before 4 o'clock.

The number of voters in this precinct is 1174.

Precinct 3, ward 5, High street, east of Ames up to 10:20 o'clock. This is considered a fair vote for a special election in the ward. The normal vote of the city in the gas plant question has been thoroughly aroused, and it is hoped for a big total vote before 4 o'clock. There were numerous workers about the ward voting booth, and a large bulletin board outside contained election ballots and instructions how to vote.

In precinct 2, ward 5, Graham street, the voting went on steadily, although it was considered a "light" vote up to 11:30. The total vote before noon was 25. With only 15 women voters, showing a large proportion of the latter and a rather poor showing on the part of the men. The ward voted 11:30 an unusually lucky vote.

Ward 4, precinct 1, reported every thing running smoothly with few voters out. The total at noon was 62, and the vote was 25. The vote was coming in before that time remaining away. The ward expects about one-third of the usual vote. There was but little early voting.

In the ward eight precincts, early voters were scarce and reports show a falling off from the record of previous special elections.

At city hall, the election commission were prepared for any emergency. Chairman Hugh C. McKee, Joseph H. Makur, Thomas H. Braden and J. Omer Ward, the clerk, were all on hand. Mr. Braden had his high-powered car handy, and his first job for inspection purposes took in ward 1, precinct 1, Market street.

The commissioners have quarters well arranged for the checking up of the total vote tonight.

SENATE PASSES FREE TOLLS BILL, 47 TO 37

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The Borah bill for tolls exemption of American coastwise vessels passing through the Panama canal was passed by the senate yesterday, 47 to 37.

The measure now goes to the house, where it is expected it will be subject to indefinite delay, at least until after the conference on limitation of armament.

Before proceeding to a final vote, the senate rejected without a rollcall two substitutes offered by Senator King, democratic, which authorized the president to negotiate for arbitration of the toll question and to appropriate $2,000,000 as a subsidy for American vessels using the canal.

The measure on the Borah proposal disclosed a split in party ranks, opponents declaring the bill was inappropriate, while Senator Borah declared he had talked with President Harding and Secretary Hughes and they did not share such views.

RICARD'S MARATHON COLUMBUS DAY

Plans are complete for the road race from Winchester to Lowell, which is known as the Ricard marathon and which is heralded as for the championship of the Merrimack valley. Frank Ricard, who has won the prize in the past, will start the runners on their 22-mile jaunt from Winchester at 12 o'clock. The first few men should reach Merrimack square between 2 and 3 o'clock if the conditions are favorable to running.

The athletes will run up Merrimack street to Union street, and then on to Ricard's store. The following entries have been received by the committee: George G. Holland, Christy Burt, George Smith, James Crockett, Frederick Fred Couture, T. Murray, James Brown, Tom Day, William Smith, Walter Drew, Henry Crosby, Harry Wilson, Thomas Lyons, and Edward O'Brien. The officials are announced as Frank Ricard, starter; Albert Crapen and Mike Whinn, judges; Ernest Peaslee, timekeeper.

GREEKS AND TURKS IN STERN BATTLE

ATHENS, Oct. 11.—Greek and Turkish national forces have been engaged in a bitter battle along the new front in Asia Minor, extending from Afium Karahissar northward to a point almost directly east of Bursa. On the southern end of this line the Greeks, says an official statement issued here, have won a complete victory, driving the nationalists from the field and inflicting heavy losses upon them. Further north, the fighting has apparently consisted of raids in force, but it is evident the hostile armies are in contact with each other.

Enemy concentrations north of Kios on the right bank of the Sakaria river, have been scattered by an offensive carried out by Greek troops, while enemy detachments further north have suffered grave losses in recent skirmishes.

Although the United States is the greatest producer of tallow and soap in the world, it consumes more than it produces.

auditorium of the high school itself would be completed.

Meyer Arlinsky of the class of 1921, followed Mr. Harris with Theodore Roosevelt's stirring address, "The Citizen," given with a fine interpretation of the feeling which America holds for the world to-day.

The high school Glee club, numbering 60 voices, sang in splendid fashion Schaefer's score of Longfellow's famous poem, "Excelsior," under the direction of Mr. Blunt.

"The Citizen," by James F. Dwyer, depicting the dream of two immigrants coming to America, was unusually well presented by David Connors of the 1922 class, at the close of which the audience rose and sang "America." Accompanied by the orchestra, Wilbur Roberts, a member of the 1923 class, played an enjoyable concert solo, "Columbia," and after the persistent applause of his audience, was obliged to give an encore.

The place which New England, especially Massachusetts, holds in the realization of all that education, religion, freedom and law stand for, was brought out by Superintendent of Schools Hugh J. Molloy, who gave a brief outline of the various periods of history since the Pilgrim fathers landed at Plymouth and also described his visit to Plymouth during the tercentenary celebration held last year. In closing, Mr. Molloy urged the students to add in fostering and advancing those things which are valuable to the life of the community and to give proof of their intelligence, and high mindedness by showing appreciation of the public school of today and the things they stand for.

Toward the close of the assembly Mr. Harris turned the meeting over to William P. McCarthy, vice leader for the school who, with his four assistants, Albert Ryan, William C. Flinn, Dorothy Steichen and Barbara McDaniel, presented a number of school yells and cheers.

Mr. Harris announced the coming to Lowell of the United States Marine band under the direction of the Marine club, and stated that a special afternoon performance would be given to express the desire to go before the school. Mr. Harris also explained the voluntary contribution system which it is hoped will retain the football, basketball and baseball teams this winter.

The program was concluded with a salute to the huge flag hung from the ceiling to the stage. All the boxes of the theatre were draped with flags and bunting.

VALUES OF IMPORTS AND EXPORTS FALL OFF

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Values of imports and exports of merchandise each fell off materially during September, according to figures made public today by the department of commerce. Imports for the month were $150,000,000, the lowest for any month this year.

Exports last month totalled $325,000,000, only $5,000,000 more than the lowest month this year, July, and $45,000,000 below the August record. Both imports and exports were approximately 50 per cent below the totals for September, 1920.

September imports of gold totalled $26,515,000, or approximately $20,000,000 below the imports of August, but $13,000,000 above the imports of September. Silver imports dropped from $7,552,000 in August to $4,955,000 for September. Silver imports for September last year were $6,501,000.

Exports of gold took a decided jump over last month's total, comparative figures being $571,000 for August and $2,415,000 for September. Silver exports also showed an increase for the month, $1,918,000 being exported as compared with $2,400,000 in August. The September silver exports, however, were nearly $2,000,000 below the exports for the same month last year.

TRIAL OF MISS M'ARDLE TO END TODAY

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Indications today were that the trial of Marian McArdle, charged with the first degree murder of Daniel Kaber, her stepfather, more than two years ago, would end before tonight.

The defense, practically concluded its case yesterday when the 29-year-old girl took the stand in her own behalf. The state announced it would call several witnesses in rebuttal, after which both sides were prepared to start their closing arguments.

Common Pleas Judge Homer G. Powell said he expected to charge the jury late today.

Miss McArdle, during her testimony, denied that she took any part in the plot to murder Kaber. She admitted, however, that she had often heard her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Becker, 59 years old, discuss the murder plans and decided that when she remonstrated with them, "they told me to keep my mouth shut."

MEET NOV. 11 TO WAGE WAR ON CAPITALISM

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Affiliated transport workers, railroad employees, miners and metal workers have been called to meet in a conference on November 11, the date of the opening of the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, according to a decision of the International Federation of trade unions of Great Britain. Robert Williams, secretary of the transport workers' union, informed the Daily Herald, organ of labor, that eight of the conference would call on the peoples of America and Europe to "wage war against capitalism in the only effective way."

"When politicians and statesmen vote credits for war munitions," he continued, "they will have to reckon with the question whether the workers will produce and transport them. Mr. Williams declared that when the conference that has been called would become a comprehensive one, which would include the workers of Europe.

The bride wore a blue canton crepe with gray hat and carried bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Hortense Leitch, a sister of the bride, wore brown canton crepe and carried pink roses. The best man, Mr. Edward Scott, a brother of the groom, at the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the bride's home, which was decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a silver mesh bag, while the groom's favor to the best man was a silver elegant case. E. J. Turcotte, O.M.I. The bride wore a dark blue traveling suit with hat to match and carried bridal roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. Euclide Cling-Mars, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Alphonse Paquette. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 16 Emileott street, and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Boston and Lynn. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Tremblay-Duval
Mr. Adolphe Tremblay and Miss Marianne Duval were married last evening at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Antoine A. Amyot, O.M.I. The couple were attended by their respective fathers, Messrs. Adolphe Tremblay and Alfred Duval.

Cutter Acushnet Keeps Watch on British Schooner to Prevent Rum-Running

NANTUCKET, Oct. 11.—The coast guard cutter Acushnet was cruising off this coast today to prevent rum-running. Within her view, according to word received ashore, was the British schooner, S. B. Young, with 1300 cases of whiskey aboard.

The Acushnet, suspicious of the schooner's movements off the coast, had chased her from a point off No Man's Land, to a position 15 miles south of this island before she was overhauled. Then asked his business in these waters, the master of the Young said his vessel was bound from St. Pierre to Nassau. As the vessel was outside the three-mile limit, the cutter had no immediate jurisdiction and she was allowed to proceed, but kept under surveillance.

The French administration has built more than 1200 miles of roads in Morocco, most of them with camel-drawn rollers.

MRS. BOUYEA FEELS FINE IN EVERY WAY

SAYS HER THREE YEARS OF SUFFERING HAS BEEN COMPLETELY RELIEVED

"I certainly had a long, hard struggle with ill health, but by the help of Tanlac I have overcome my troubles at last," said Mrs. Edward Bouyea, 43 Manhattan st., Springfield.

"About three years ago I began suffering with a bad stomach. I kept getting worse until I had to take treatment, and was told I had nervous indigestion. It seems like a tried every thing sold in a drug store, but nothing helped me, and I was very much discouraged, for I thought I was going to get down in bed. I would get sick at my stomach and have awful dizzy spells and blinding headaches that almost drove me distracted. My nerves were so shattered that a good night's sleep was simply out of the question, and I was so weak and worn out I was just miserable all the time."

"However, I began improving rapidly as soon as I started taking Tanlac, and four bottles of the medicine have restored my health and strength completely. The indigestion, nervous headaches and dizziness are entirely gone, I sleep like a child at night, and have gained a number of pounds in weight. I feel fine in every way, and shall always praise Tanlac for the blessing it has been to me."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by The Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Store, 100 North Main st., D. J. Davis, Chelmsford, Mass., Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

LINCOLN CLUB MEETING

Casey and Campbell Discuss Proposed New Charter in Colonial Hall

Hon. James B. Casey, chairman of the charter commission, and Abel R. Campbell, secretary, were the two speakers at a mass meeting held in Colonial hall, Middle street, last evening. Mr. Casey explained every phase of the proposed new city charter, throwing much light on the subject, while Mr. Campbell explained in a very interesting manner, the doings of the commission, which drafted the new charter. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Lincoln club and was presided over by its president, Edgar P. Dougherty.

In his opening remarks Mr. Dougherty said the Lincoln club is absolutely unbiased on the charter question. What the organization wants, he said, is a fair public discussion of the merits of the present and the proposed charter. He stated that Mr. Casey would be the principal speaker of the evening and that at the close of the speaker's address questions could be asked.

Mr. Campbell was first introduced and as secretary of the commission he said the commission was appointed by Mayor Thompson under an act passed by the legislature. The commission, he said, is composed of 15 men, republicans and democrats and at no time during the deliberations or discussions was partisanship ever mentioned. Continuing Mr. Campbell said: "There are people who are discussing the new charter as the Casey charter, but these people are endeavoring to create a wrong impression, for the charter is not Casey's charter but the charter of 15 men legally appointed by the mayor of your city."

SIMPLE APPLICATION THAT DISSOLVES BLACKHEADS

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of calomine powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge, rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds, wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone. Squeezing and pinching blackheads make large pores and you can not get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calomine powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Any druggist will sell you the calomine powder and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.—Adv.

A PARISIAN SURPRISE GOWN

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Individually is assuredly the keynote of this gown, which breathes anew into our modern fashions the spirit of 1890. Not only the shoulder cape but the removable gauntlets of astrakhan recall these old-time cuts of fashionable skaters in grandmother's days. Jenny, of course, is responsible for this Mary Walls model, with its lovely, straight lined, gray crepe gown, girdled in silver links and the broad band of astrakhan at the bottom of the skirt.

The sleeves are long and the astrakhan gauntlets not loose and long so that they meet the full cape. This cape, with its four huge silver filigree buttons, has a choker collar. It is lined with the gray crepe. When the gauntlets and cape are removed, a charmingly simple and rich costume is revealed. While the surprise of seeing a lady take off the accessories bit by bit, adds that ever fascinating Parisian chic.

92 P. C. of Switchmen Vote to Strike

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Although 92 per cent. of the members of the Switchmen's Union of North America voted to authorize a strike, officers who left for Chicago today to attend a conference of railroad union representatives expressed the belief that no strike would be called unless further wage reductions are proposed. The organizations represented at the Chicago conference and their membership are: Trainmen, 150,000; firemen, 115,000; engineers, 80,000; conductors, 50,000; switchmen, 14,000.

The charter is not perfect, but the commission believes it is far better than the one under which we are now living and which has been in force for the past 11 years.

In his opening remarks Mr. Casey commended the public spirit of the Lincoln club in arranging for the meeting, as he said, the organization is showing its interest in its members. "The acceptance of the proposed charter," said the speaker, "is not affecting me personally and I may say right here that as far as I know there are no members of the charter commission who are candidates for office. 'Government is political,' said Mr. Casey, "and it will remain so, but this does not mean that we must not have efficiency in public affairs. Why is the voter so indifferent in civic matters? Is it because he does not want to be called a politician? If you are a republican do not let the word politician worry you, because it generally applies to the poor democrat only. The voters at the polls want good government, but the reason we vote as we do is because we are loyal to our party affiliations."

Mr. Casey then discussed the various articles of the charter, giving his ideas as to why a change is necessary. He said the commission after thorough discussion was unable to recommend the present charter because there is too much secrecy under present conditions. "The new charter," he continued, "is no panacea for the ills of government, but it would be a distinct improvement over the instrument under which the city is now operating. Do you realize that since the charter went into effect some 11 years ago, only 12 men have served as aldermen and only three as mayor? Is not that showing that under present conditions Lowell is not enjoying representative government?"

The speaker then dwelt at length on the position of mayor, saying that under the present charter the chief executive has no more authority than any one of the four commissioners. He is mayor in social functions only. Referring to the position of mayor under the new charter Mr. Casey said he would have power to nominate department heads, which nominations, however, would be subject to confirmation by the council. He would have the right to suspend any department head, but this suspension would also be subject to the council's approval.

Mr. Casey then took up the various positions such as chief of police, chief of the fire department, purchasing agent, etc. and contrasted the difference under the present and proposed charters, saying that under the new charter each man would be responsible for his respective department. The speaker then took up the school department and said that many crimes are committed against the taxpayer's pocketbook in the name of education.

CHINESE REPUBLIC

Tenth Anniversary Observed by Chinese Students of Textile School

The tenth anniversary of the establishment of the Chinese republic was celebrated by the Chinese students attending the Textile school, by a very enjoyable banquet followed by appropriate exercises at the Y.M.C.A. banquet hall last evening.

The invited guests included the faculty of the Textile school with their wives, Mayor Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, Agent Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills, Secretary Wells of the chamber of commerce, representatives of the press and a few others.

The hall was tastefully decorated with the Chinese and American national colors.

Mr. C. C. Gilbert Kao presided as toastmaster and filled the position in a very efficient manner.

Mayor Thompson delivered a brief address expressing his good wishes for the success of the Chinese republic and the young men who are so deeply interested in its destinies. As usual this honor proved a very entertaining speaker.

C. C. GILBERT KAO, Toastmaster

Principal Eames responded briefly, paying tribute to the Chinese students and alluding to the prominence of the Textile school had attained in attracting students from other countries. Originally he said its purpose was to help the textile industries in Lowell and vicinity, but it had outgrown that and has never turned students away regardless of whence they came.

Mr. T. S. Thom took a leading part in the program as a speaker and a vocalist. He speaks English quite fluently. Mr. C. George Wang gave a Chinese solo with the typical air of an oriental melody and the entire student, fifteen in number, gave the yell of the new republic, which was certainly quite stirring. The Chinese national anthem was sung with fine accompaniment by C. Calvin Chang, Clarence Xu, "America" was also sung, the audience joining.

Japan Criticized

Mr. Theodore Lee spoke on the Chinese republic and Japanese aggression.

He said that in recent years America has shown a strong sympathy for China and an effort to understand the Chinese people. He was proud to speak of China as one of the most wonderful nations on earth. Her music, her art and her literature have shed a great deal of light upon the period of oriental history that would otherwise be blank to the world. Her ethics, her mode of thought, and her philosophy deserve a profound study of the learned scholars from every land. Her friendship, courtesy and her hospitality extended to foreign guests have convinced them that China is one of the best places in the world to live in.

The revolution of 1911, in the short space of three months, overthrew the monarchy that had its beginning some 1000 years ago. That was one of the greatest achievements of the 20th century. To review the history of the new republic and the obstacles to its growth, require a discussion of Japanese interference and aggression. The manner in which Japan has murdered the Chinese people, taken possession of Shantung, and smuggled opium into China has stirred the wrath of every representative of the Chinese people. As a result, every true son of China is ready to fight to the bitter end for the redemption of his country from the grasp and domination of the Japanese. There is no more reason why Japan should occupy one foot of Chinese territory, than there is that she should plant her flag on the shores of California. The 21 demands made by Japan upon the Chinese people, constitute the most painful and outrageous experiences in our 4000 years of history. It is a blot upon the history of the 20th century. China has immense man power and boundless resources which she will give freely to the world; but she never will submit to be openly robbed. China appreciates very highly the friendly and sympathetic attitude of the United States. Since the declaration of the open door policy, the United States has rendered China very valuable help in a great many ways.

By this means, she has made friends of the Chinese people who look to this country for the aid and sympathy which one republic can justly extend to another against international schemes of injustice and aggression. The speaker closed by expressing the wish that the friendship that has existed between China and the United States for so many years would be maintained and even strengthened in the future years and that the spirit of democracy which rules in the United States would grow in power in China until the cause of justice and humanity shall triumph over militarism and its threat for conquest.

TO PERPETUATE THE 26TH DIVISION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Encouraging progress in the post-war reorganization of the National Guard was reported yesterday by the war department, the aggregate strength of the state forces to date being placed at 126,000 officers and men as compared with the authorized total of 215,397 permitted under existing laws up to June 30, 1922. The statement said the militia bureau already had been forced to deny recognition in some cases to guard units, as available federal funds for the year would not permit their inclusion.

In the reorganization, it was pointed out, the same lessons learned in the world war that dictated the policy as to the regular army had been applied to state forces. Definite ratios of auxiliary arms of the service, including tank corps, air service, motor transport, and all modern artillery units, have been fixed for the guard and a considerable showing made in development of these branches. The effect is to have created in the 15 months since the passage of the reorganization act a substantial framework of each of the 17 national guard divisions forming the first supporting force for the regulars in the event of war.

Under the new military policy there will be one regular division, two national guard divisions and the officer personnel and a 10 per cent enlisted nucleus for each of three organized reserve divisions by each of the nine army corps areas. The nine areas, in turn, are divided into three army areas, each containing three corps.

A national guard cavalry unit is under organization, although the 15 divisions mentioned are all infantry troops. With the completion of the cavalry organizations, the department statement said, there will be in the country enough mounted troops to form four cavalry divisions in addition to the regular cavalry.

National guard divisions have been allotted so far as possible the numerical designations of the war-time divisions, beginning with the 26th, in harmony with the state associations which marked the war-time units. Six states, Massachusetts (26th) Division; New York (27th), Pennsylvania (28th), Texas (29th), and Ohio (30th), have sufficient population to justify assigning the complete divisions. The smaller states are geographically grouped in the other divisions, with the 43d added to the war-time lists to take care of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The Chinese government will establish an air mail service between Peking and Tientsin, capital of Shantung province.

FUTURE VERY BRIGHT, SAYS BULLARD

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—"No country in the world is sitting on an even keel or has as promising a future as this country," declared Washington I. Bullard, vice president of the Merchants National bank, yesterday afternoon at the opening session of the Tenny Service convention at the Engineers' club. He pointed out the extent of deflation business has been through, the improvements shown in various industries, and concluded that "one of the most hopeful signs of the day is the changed attitude of labor." This, he explained, was partly shown by labor's willingness to work longer hours. He traced conditions in each of the foreign countries which he had visited during the past summer. "All the countries in Europe, except Russia and Spain, have recognized their fundamental difficulties," Mr. Bullard asserted, "and such recognition is a move forward."

The speaker said that a Russian trade commission with which he conferred at Moscow, had advised that "they are at the end of the rope," that capital is necessary, and that a scheme for re-establishing a basis for the national currency must be devised. He suggested, he said, a plan of gathering all the silver in the country, particularly the silver in churches. The commission estimated, he continued, that Russia could spend $5,000,000,000 in this country for industrial and living necessities.

Status of German Mark

Mr. Bullard remarked that "they know what they are doing in Germany," and pointed out that the continued issuance of marks is to keep up a semblance of prosperity which is necessary to preserve the social structure. He spoke particularly of the situation in Germany, pointing out that in 1918 there were 750 American accounts in German banks and six employees in the American department of the Deutsche bank, and that now there are 60,000 accounts and 160 employees in the American department. The Deutsche bank, he said, is opening 50 new American accounts daily.

He said the only possible solutions to the German mark problem are: That the marks be funded into non-interest-paying bonds, that they be sold on a minimum exchange, or that they be sold on a maximum exchange. The speaker stressed the importance of Upper Silesia to Germany. "If they fail to get Upper Silesia," he declared, "the whole German social and political structure will crumble." The earning power of Germany, he pointed out, is 3,000,000,000 gold marks, one-third of that for maintenance, a third for interest on investment and a third for reparations payments, while, he said, the total reparations payments amount to about 4,000,000,000 marks annually.

Mr. Bullard referred to the proposed organization of "a huge German cartel which expects to control the industry and commerce of Central Europe." As an evidence of the return of German industry to somewhere near pre-war efficiency he told of the manufacture of pianos for $103, which is $15 more than formerly.

Italy in Good Position

The most hopeful conditions Mr. Bullard found in Italy, where the roads are beautiful, and industry booming in many lines. He emphasized the heavy taxation burden in England, which he said, is five times greater than in this country or in France.

He predicted a sure foreign market in the future for surplus goods from this country. He thought some protective tariff was needed, but did not favor the Fordney measure.

"Any man who is a pessimist in this period of ours, who can't see a gleam of returning prosperity, I point out as narrow," Mr. Bullard concluded.

The afternoon session was opened by Col. Charles H. Tenney, M. H. Aylesworth, executive manager of the National Electric Light Association, called the public utilities laws of Massachusetts "blue laws." "One privilege of living in the west," he said, "is that we're not afraid to try things out. We've got a lot of new-fangled ideas, most of which will be done away with before we try them."

Although the speaker championed the regulation of public utilities, he opposed municipal or government ownership.

The sessions will continue today and Gov. Cox will be the chief guest. Tomorrow the more than 100 public utility men in attendance will go on an outing to Sautaug Lake Inn, Lynnfield.

MAYOR TIRING OF PEACE MAKER ROLE

Mayor Thompson is beginning to feel the job of peacemaker is rather a thankless position. He is just getting to the point where he is becoming a little disgusted with the trouble now troubling the theatre managers and members of the union which includes movie operators, stage hands and musicians. Last night a conference between the two groups was scheduled for the mayor's office at 10:30 o'clock. With the managers present a telephone message from the union representatives came at 10:25 which said they would not be present owing to the inability of their counsel to be on hand. The managers and Mayor Thompson talked the matter over until after one o'clock this morning. The mayor does not know when the next conference will be. He came home from the world's series last to be on hand and is made nervous by the theatre managers and members of the union which includes movie operators, stage hands and musicians. CADAMIST AND DANCE
All arrangements for the cadamist and dance under the auspices of the Women's Industrial and Social club and the Men's Athletic and Social club of the Massachusetts, which will be held in the high quarters on the corner of 2nd and 3rd streets, have been completed and it is believed the affair will be very successful, for members of both organizations are working hard to make it one of the best ever conducted in the city. A preliminary concert is now preparing for the concert, and all who wish to take part are requested to meet at the clubrooms Sunday noon, at 12 o'clock, for rehearsal.

Observance of Columbus Day

during the holiday. At 10:30 in the morning, the Lowell high football team will meet the Wakefield high at Spaulding park, and this event is expected to meet with a large attendance, as a good, snappy game is looked for.

The afternoon's activities open with the carnival of sports at Golden Cove park, under the auspices of the Lowell Driving club. The program includes, besides the best horse racing seen here for many moons, a soccer game, tug-of-war and other sports. Another feature of the afternoon will be the Ricard marathon which starts in Winchester and finishes here.

At 2 o'clock, The Sun will megaphone the world's series and the chances are that standing room will be at a premium in Merrimack square. The series will also be shown on the electric wonder board at the Crescent rink.

At 2:30 o'clock, there will be another football struggle between the Indians and Chelsea A.A. at Spaulding park, while the Samosets and Trojans will do battle at Shedd park at 3 o'clock. Then there's the Butler A.A. vs. Speeding A.C. of Dorchester at the Fair grounds, and, anybody who doesn't want to follow the sports can dance at the Casino and Associate hall afternoon and evening and attend holiday shows in the theatre. In the evening, the Moody club will make its debut at the Crescent rink with a program of four bouts.

K. of C. Installation
Next in importance to the Knights' observance of Columbus day tomorrow, comes the Annual Installation of officers of Lowell council on Monday evening of this week, when John E. Hart assumes the reins of grand knight superseding George F. Briggan, who steps down after a meritorious service of several years.

YEAST EATERS LIKE TABLETS

Easier to Take, Contain Proper Dose, Produce Results Quicker
CHEMISTS CONCENTRATE VITAMINE FROM YEAST

Thousands are turning from ordinary yeast to the new and better concentrated tablets which contain a proper dose of Yeast Vitamine (Water Solution). Made from Yeast with the still more important "Fat Soluble A" Vitamine. These Tablets are called "Phos-Pho-Vitamine" tablets and those taking yeast to help banish pimples, boils, carbuncles, etc., beautify complexion, increase weight, strengthen and build up the rundown system and to stop constipation in a permanent fashion, will find the tablets easy to take, more economical and results quicker. It is no wonder that druggists and chemists recommended these Phos-Pho-Vitamine Tablets for all complaints for which ordinary yeast is good. A few druggists haven't secured the tablets yet, and it is due to war tax on living laboratory, Wheeling, W. Va., for large bottle of 60 Phos-Pho-Vitamine Tablets prepaid.—Adv.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save 25, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you all the relief you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membrane, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Never mind the failures of the past. Insist upon having, at once, a bottle of guaranteed Dr. Carey's Marsh-Meek Prescription No. 777. (Liquid or Tablet form) from Fred Howard, 127 Central St., A. W. Dow's drug store, or any other reliable druggist for Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away; they will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty. Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was always tired, my head ached, and my back ached until I could hardly stand the pain. I doctored for years, and the doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, and that I could not have children. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles of it and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have a fine baby boy, thanks to what your medicine did for me in restoring my health. I can highly recommend the Compound to all women who suffer from female ills."—Mrs. Wm. Reiss, 304 Willow St., Chicago, Ill.

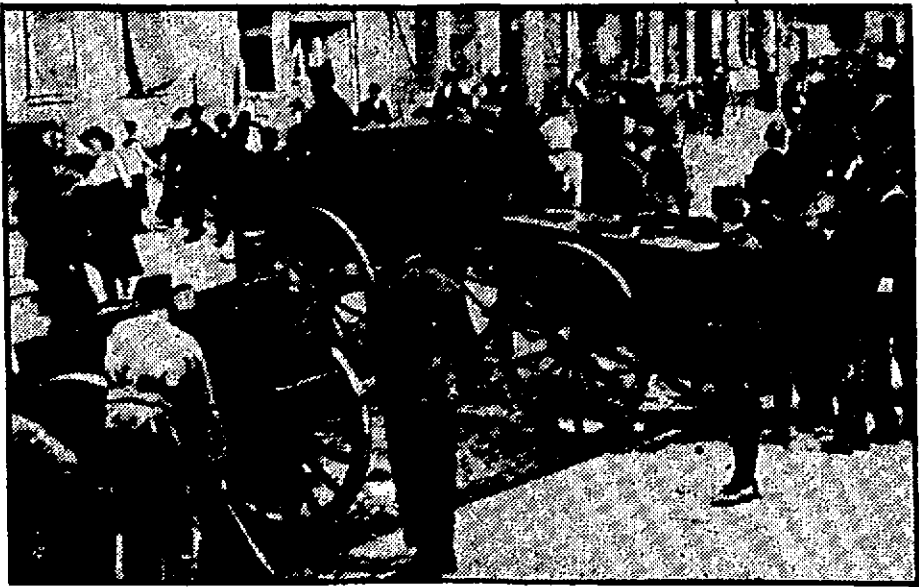

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a very nervous condition, was irregular, and could not have any children. I took doctor's medicine without success, and he advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon felt benefited by its use, became regular, and now we have a fine baby girl after having been married nine years. I am always glad to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer from such troubles."—Mrs. H. B. Held, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

PEACE MUST GUARANTEE FREEDOM—DE VALERA

DUBLIN, Oct. 11. (By Associated Press.)—Eamon de Valera issued a proclamation last night declaring that the only peace which can end the struggle will be one consistent with the nation's right and one guaranteeing freedom worthy the sufferings endured to secure it. The Irish delegates who are to meet the British representatives in London, he says, indulge in no foolish hopes, and he advises the country not to indulge in them.

The proclamation reads in part: "Whatever the difference of the past, it is to the interest as it is the duty, of all Irishmen to stand together for Ireland now. Our delegates are keenly conscious of their responsibilities; they must be made to feel that a united nation has confidence in them and will support them unflinchingly. But they realize that the ending of the conflict does not depend upon their will or the will of this nation."

"The only peace that in the very nature of things can end the struggle will be a peace consistent with the nation's right and guaranteeing freedom worthy the sufferings endured to secure it."

"Such a peace will not be easy to obtain. A claim that conflicts with Ireland's right has been ruthlessly perpetrated in through centuries of blood; it seems unlikely that this claim will be abandoned now. Peace and that claim are incompatible."

"The delegates are aware that no wisdom of theirs will suffice; they indulge, therefore, in no foolish hopes; nor should the country indulge in them. The peace that will end this conflict will be secured not by the skill of statesmanship of the leaders, but by the stern determination of a close-knit nation steeled by acceptance of death rather than abandonment of rightful liberty."

"Of necessity Ireland must stand where she is, unyielding and fearless on the rock of right, or be out-maneuvered and defeated in detail. The power against us will use every artifice, it knows in the hope of dissipating, dividing, weakening us. Unity that is essential will best be maintained by unwavering faith in those devoted to act in the nation's behalf and a confidence manifesting itself, as hitherto, in an eloquent discipline."

THE LAMSON COMPANY
According to the Syracuse Journal work on the erection of the new plant of the Lamson Co. in that city will start at once as the general contract has been awarded to a large construction company. It is not known how soon the company will close its local plant, but its officials say the help will be given ample notice to arrange to go to Syracuse if they so desire.

MATHEWS CELEBRATE

Observe 131st Anniversary of
Birth of Rev. Fr. Mathew,
Apostle of Temperance

"There is more need of a temperance organization in Lowell today than ever before and the members of the Mathews, who have performed noble work for total abstinence should continue their endeavors and work hard to increase their membership not to 1000, but to 5000," said Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., pastor of St. Peter's church and spiritual director of the institute, during an interesting speech at the society's observance of the 131st anniversary of the birth of Rev. Theobald Mathew, Irish apostle of temperance, held last evening.

Fr. Keleher declared that the great need of such organizations was due to the fact that young men today, who in years gone by would never dare to frequent saloons, are falling victims

ARTHUR M. FLAHERTY,
President

to the various poisonous concoctions, and were bringing disgrace upon themselves and their families, and endangering their very lives.

"The important message of temperance laid down by Fr. Mathew," he continued, "should be conveyed to the young men of the city. Bring them into the organization, show them the advantages to be gained by membership, and if you do this, you are bound to continue to fill the important place you have occupied in the community for so many years."

Other features of the observance were interesting addresses by Supt. Richmond Welch of the Lowell police department and Rep. Thomas J. Corbett, and a fine musical program. Refreshments were also served by an efficient committee of members.

The hall was well filled when Pres. Arthur Flaherty called to order. He extended a welcome to all, announcing that the event marked the opening of the fall and winter season, and expressed his delight in seeing so many members on hand. He also outlined some of the activities planned for the season, particularly emphasizing the resumption of extension classes under the direction of Charles D. Foley. He urged the members to register for the classes this week, as it is planned to begin the work next week.

Fr. Keleher was the opening speaker. He expressed his pleasure at again coming before the organization to assist with them in honoring the memory of Fr. Mathew. He recalled many interesting anecdotes in connection with the work of the apostle of temperance and then stressed the importance of the members keeping ever before them his message. He told of the need of continuing the fight for temperance, declaring that increased membership in such a noble society would do much to combat the prevailing evils. His remarks were listened to with marked attention and he was vigorously applauded.

Supt. Welch was cordially greeted when presented. The "Big Chief" was in good form and for half an hour he held the attention of the members with an interesting recitation of some of his police experiences. He cited incidents of where the officer was called upon to temper mercy with justice and how a kindly word is many times more effective than a severe reprimand.

Pres. Flaherty then announced that unexpectedly the assembly had been honored by Rep. Corbett's presence, the visitor responding to the invitation of a member of the committee to fill in when some of those on the program found it impossible to attend. He called upon Mr. Corbett for a few remarks, and the representative's address proved a rare treat.

He opened in a reminiscent mood, telling of the early activities of the Burkes and the Mathews and of the great work they had performed in the city of Lowell. He then recounted some of his experiences in the nine hours. He also paid a tribute to Supt.

Welch for his many kindly acts in behalf of young men of the city. He then turned to the subject touched upon by Pres. Flaherty in his opening address, and urged all members who possibly can to avail themselves of the opportunities afforded by these courses. He said that nothing is so invaluable as an education, explaining his own experiences as an illustration. He said that it has been his good fortune to mingle with many educated men in public life and he has had the advantages of education brought to his attention very forcibly on many occasions. He also urged the young men to take an active interest in all public matters, study every issue carefully, discuss them here, and exercise all the great advantages of citizenship, he concluded.

The accompaniment for the musical program was played by Paul Angelo, and among the soloists were Joseph M. Reilly and Matthew Ryan.

The members of the committee having charge of the smoker were as follows: Thomas J. Tighe, chairman; Walter M. Quinn, secretary; James Campbell, William Finnegan, Bernard A. Tully, P. Frank Reilly, Joseph Geary, John Tighe and Edward Mealey.

WOMENS CLUB HEARS CAROL PERRY

Members of the Middlesex Women's club at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at Colonial hall, heard Carol Perry, read an interesting group of poems by contemporary American poets. Opening with a selection by Walt Whitman, "Prayer of Columbus," Mr. Perry provided a most entertaining afternoon, explaining the difference in subject matter and meaning of the poets and telling a bit about the authors.

William Vaughn Moody, according to Mr. Perry, was one of our most gifted men and from his pen he read "The Gloucester Moors," following it with Edward Markham's "Man With the Hoe." Of Mr. Markham's other works he also read "Lincoln, the Man of the People," interesting was Mr. Perry's interpretation of "Congo," written by Vachel Lindsay, who gave the poem himself before this club some time ago. Mr. Perry also read Lindsay's "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight," and his poem on Gen. Booth, through which runs the refrain: "Are you washed in the blood of the lamb?"

Other poems included in Mr. Perry's program and which especially appealed to his hearers were Arthur Colton's "Hearst Hung Up in Babylon," Bliss Carman's "Sea as a Grave Digger," Sara Teasdale's "The Kiss," and two war production which have now become famous, "In Flanders Field" and "I Have a Rendezvous With Death" by Alan Seeger.

THE ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

There is very much misgiving in certain quarters as to the outcome of the forthcoming conference of the limitation of armaments. In this movement the United States takes the initiative and will, therefore, be expected to demonstrate its willingness to set a worthy example in cutting down the expenditures for the maintenance of large army and naval forces. England, Japan and France will be the leading power represented at the conference from the old world. France is unwilling to make any reduction in land forces and England and Japan are equally unwilling to reduce their naval forces. The United States is willing to agree to any program consistent with national safety. At the present time, however, it seems that Japan is assuming a menacing attitude and adopting policies wholly characteristic of a military power with very definite aims of conquest under development.

Japan is asserting her control over a portion of Siberia and reports of her doings in that territory indicate that she has adopted methods which are wholly unjustified and which under other conditions would have involved her in a world war.

The world war, however, has left the leading powers of the old world, with the exception of Japan, in a condition under which they have not the financial resources necessary to enable them to conduct another war. They are, however, watching the movements of Japan and endeavoring by diplomatic means to check the aggression of that power carried on under various subterfuges. Japan is gaining a foothold not only in Siberia where she has adopted military methods for advancing her sway but she is also pursuing a like policy in China where her methods of peaceful penetration are backed up by military force where that is necessary to secure control.

Japan has retained Shantung which with the peninsula of Korea gives her a safe harbor for her vessels in case of attack. In the Pacific also, she is raising fortifications apparently with no other intention than to check any possible movement by the United States against Japanese interests.

The trouble with California relative to the treatment of Japanese nationals is not settled and it would seem that Japan is not very desirous of having it settled. She may wish to hold it as a smoke screen while she is extending her influence in Oriental nations.

With these things in mind it is not likely that Japan will agree to any great reduction either in her army or her navy. She is increasing her navy by rapid strides and adopting every new method of warfare as soon as its practicability has been demonstrated. When demands are made upon her for a change of policy, she may demand equal rights for her nationals in the United States. That is something the United States will not and cannot grant. In some quarters there has been a suggestion that the United States shall induce England to part company with Japan or in other words to sever the alliance which has existed between these two powers for several years. The United States could do that only by an agreement to enter into an alliance with England which she is not willing to do now, nor likely to do in the near future.

Altogether, therefore, it is doubtful if much will be accomplished at this so-called disarmament conference. It may bring as much obliquity to President Harding as the League of Nations brought to President Wilson.

BUT ONE REFERENDUM

At the last minute on the eve of the special election the local authorities of the city came out with an explanation of what the referendum vote on the gas question will mean if by any possibility there should be a majority in the affirmative. It appears quite clear that there can be no second submission of the question to the people at least for the present. An affirmative vote in today's election would be a mandate to the municipal council to proceed according to the legal methods laid down, to purchase the plant of the Lowell Gas Light company. The city solicitor states that for this purpose the city council would have to pass an affirmative vote in two consecutive years and that thereafter the price to be paid for the plant would be fixed by the public utilities commission.

It seems that the entire question of municipal ownership is much involved and that it has been complicated by the adoption of our present charter. Originally the method has been that the first steps would be taken by the municipal council voting to purchase the gas plant in two successive years. Then the question would be submitted to the voters, after which the state commission would have something to say as to whether the plan was too great for the municipality to assume. It seems settled, however, that there can be but one referendum on the question unless the city council should refuse to follow the first mandate and the initiative would have to be invoked once more on the same question.

We expect that the matter will be settled in the negative by the votes of the people today.

OUR WAR LOANS

Again it appears that certain newspapers are starting an agitation in favor of the cancellation of our war loans to the allied nations. In other words, they ask that we donate ten billion dollars to England and some of the other powers, despite the fact that this nation is now financially embarrassed in several different ways, and that it cannot pay its service men what they are entitled to for their heroic services during the war when they were paid at the rate of a dollar a day while others working at home earned in a large proportion of cases over a dollar per hour.

We do not believe it would be just or right to the people of this nation from whom this money was borrowed, to cancel any part of this debt. Some of the nations to which it was loaned have been conducting wars and building naval armaments with this money or its equivalent, while we are unable to meet the ordinary demands of our soldiers without incurring the risk of making the business depression worse than it is and adding to the tax burdens of the nation.

If the nations cannot pay at the present time, it is the duty of congress to refund the debt and give them a reasonable time in which to begin making payments. The refunding of the debts should not be left to any one man. It is a matter big enough to engage the attention of the representatives of the people and they alone should decide in what way this step should be taken.

ALL INTERDEPENDENT

Eighty billion dollars is invested in the farming industry. That is more than is tied up in railroads and manufacturing combined. William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Co., tells this to a farmers' meeting. He points out that all industries are interdependent, and that what happens to one affects all.

Wood's point is that industries should pull together. Individuals are equally interdependent. Man who has a job may not be worrying about unemployment. He should be, for his job would be safer and pay more if all were working. Break the main spring of your watch, and the whole works stop. Depression in business affects all, just as quickly.

GENERAL WOOD

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood retires from the army to become governor general of the Philippines, as the government wouldn't let him hold two jobs at once.

Seemingly, Wood retires to the far corners of the earth. But you never can tell. One man who served as governor general at Manila, became President William Howard Taft.

Will Wood travel the same road? Some think so. Wood has the ambition but it is doubtful if he will ever again be able to come to the front as a strong candidate. The soldier politician is not popular of late.

THE OFFICER JUSTIFIED

So far as can be learned, Officer Keegan was fully justified in shooting the gunman who had started shooting over a card game in a coffee house. The officer showed his courage in hastening to disarm a desperado who held a reeking revolver in his hand. When the gun was pointed at the officer, it was time for the latter to shoot. Police officers are not supposed to stand up as targets for gunmen. Officer Keegan deserves to be commended for his courage. Had he hesitated, he might have been the victim instead of the gunman.

THE PENNY

Difference of a cent a pound means a difference of $97,334,490 in the nation's annual sugar bill, says the research department of the American Farm Bureau Federation. And a penny, added to gasoline, costs consumers $42,841,279 a year.

Many great fortunes, also many big failures, are founded on these penny fluctuations. With fewer dollars running loose, the penny is gaining increasing respect. After government gets back to thinking in thousands instead of millions, it should study the possibilities of the penny.

"Ham and" is more attractive with the price lower in some eating places. Wonder what Johnny Dolan would say if he were alive and running that famous Little New York eating palace today?

When Zion's chief, Yollva, lands in New York he may not get the publicity he desires to help him in his clean-up campaign, but a few movie-men will undoubtedly be on hand and that ought to suffice.

That new book by Coningsby Dawson, "Three Soldiers," is either a libel on the men who fought for the world's freedom, or else a hideous truth.

Explorer Ennekin, shocked at the high prices of food and clothing in France, is planning to return to Africa where the H.C.I. is a mere bagatelle.

The man who stole an airplane and got away with it was promptly given a job by the owner, when he was located. Does that teach anything?

The efforts for a better economic adjustment are praiseworthy indeed when good will is present as a side line.

Even the fair midway folks can see the signs of returning prosperity. The nickels and dimes show the way.

At least Mexico is peaceful enough just now.

New York would not be New York if politics were in the discard.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

On one of my recent visits to the local court I couldn't help but notice the efficient work being performed there by Court Officer Michael J. Dowd. Mr. Dowd during a session sees to it that absolute quiet is maintained and he keeps the persons in the corridor and adjoining rooms from causing unnecessary disturbance to the presiding justice. Mr. Dowd's work is often the subject of commendation by members of the bar trying cases, who opine that the local court session is one of the most orderly conducted in the state.

I have noticed from time to time the heavy traffic at the junction of Merrimack and Pawtucket streets. Would it not be a good idea to have a traffic officer at this point? I have seen autos come flying across Pawtucket street and shoot down Merrimack street without anything that looked like a signal as to the direction in which they were going. In 15 minutes, while waiting for cars to clear a traffic jam at this point and only seven of the lot obeyed the rules of the road. A bluecoat might help.

From all appearances I am of the opinion that the barn dance to be held in Arcadia hall, Wednesday evening, October 19, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Post 87, American Legion, is going to prove one of the most enjoyable and best attended social events of the Lowell fall season. The boys of the post are co-operating with the ladies to a large extent as they are anxious to have the affair turn out a big success.

"The good women are always ready to assist us whenever we are out to do something and now it's about time we helped them to do theirs," said an active member of the Legion today. By the way I notice that a cordial invitation is extended to all the "Rubes" of the city to attend the dance, according to a placard being shown throughout the city advertising the dance.

It's the height of impoliteness, of course, to look into people's windows and read their mail. But one really couldn't expect to be forgiven if she stopped and stared. Any householder would have a perfect right to call the police or—pull down the shades. Sometimes, as in one of Lowell's hospitals, there are no curtains at all and people look into such places with a feeling of sympathy.

For such I have watched for the light in one of the first floor rooms which disclosed a lovable-looking old gentleman with hair and beard of gleaming white, propped up in bed and reading—always reading except one or two times when his room was filled with company. I've wondered what he read with such satisfaction and enjoyment. But—my friend, the reader, was gone when I went by the hospital the other night and no one has occupied that bed since. Then there's the little girl with the shiny curls and a pinky pink hair ribbon who, perched on a high backed chair, practices her piano playing and sings.

I was looking over an old history of Lowell the other day, and read with considerable interest about the life and performances of Mayor Elihu Huntington in local municipal affairs. Those acquainted with local history will recall that it was during Mayor Huntington's regime the city suffered from "the great freshet." Boats were used in some of the streets of Belvidere. History tells us that the earliest freshet recorded in this vicinity was in October, 1585. It is said to have been the greatest of which there is any record or tradition. At Nashua the rise in the river was 32 feet. At the head of Pawtucket falls it was more than 13 feet. Of course there was no bridge then to obstruct the course of the flood waters. In the freshet in 1585 the water rose to a height of 14 feet. There were freshets in 1592, 1593, 1599 and 1578 when the waters reached a height of more than 10 feet.

The Christmas toy windows are beginning to blossom again. Saw a window display on Market street yesterday that would draw the children quickly if they knew what was displayed there. It won't be long, I suppose, before the stores on the main thoroughfares have their windows space adorned for the Christmas show, and the children always get as much room as the elders.

Lowell court house officers are the pride of that institution. Always alert, attentive, quick to rush to the aid of clerks, judges and jurors, and watchful when spectators attempt to rush in or out of court sessions without observing the proprieties, these officials perform their work in a manner that merits commendation. When a judge addresses jurymen, you have to be either a lawyer or a newspaperman to get into the quiet court room. Out-lets must wait. The officers are quick to put the official "smoke screen" on the curious and the noise-makers. If you have business there, you will have no trouble, but if you have no business there, you will be informed that the air is better outside the court room. And the court officials are mighty fine judges of human nature and, in some cases, regular mind readers.

Is the Lowell crowd with the Yankees or the Glants? That is a question that is not easily answered. Yesterday while listening to the results of the game, it seemed that the crowd was very pro-Glant. When the Yankees scored, there was a silence reigned. But when the Glants scored, the crowd broke loose. Today, however, the crowd is just as likely as not to be against the Glants. The average baseball fan is fickle.

Lowell Represented at Atlanta Convention—Eight Months' Fire Loss Here

Yesterday was "Fire Prevention Day" throughout the United States. A convention including officials from all parts of this country and Canada went into session at Atlanta, Ga. Fire chiefs and attaches from the biggest cities met in conference to develop new ways and means for the prevention of fires. Chief Saunders and Commissioner Salmon represented Lowell.

INDIA REPRESENTED IN BRITISH DELEGATION

LONDON, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press).—The British delegation to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and disarmament questions will include a representative of India, according to British official circles yesterday. The Indian delegate probably will be of Indian nationality. It was said, if he can be spared from official duties in the homeland.

This selection will complete the British delegation, with the exception of one other English representative, as it is expected official confirmation will be given to the nomination of A. J. Balfour, Baron Leo of Fareham, former Premier Lord of Canada, and Geo. Foster Pearce, minister of defense of Australia.

The American ambassador, George Harvey, will break the long silence he has maintained since his memorable League of Nations address at the Pilgrims' dinner, May 19, when the society entertains the British delegates on a date which has been tentatively fixed as Oct. 20.

Announcing the Ambassador's acceptance of the invitation, the secretary of the Pilgrims said Mr. Harvey might make "only a few remarks," but there was a possibility he would take occasion to make a long pronouncement.

INSPECTION TODAY OF HOTEL GOODS

The Harrisona hotel opened at noon today and will remain open until 5 p. m. for the inspection of lots that are to be sold at auction on Thursday.

It was not expected that the hotel could be opened at all before Thursday, but realizing the magnitude of the sale, Mr. Guyette took the matter up with the lawyers concerned in the involuntary liquidation and received word late last night, that Tuesday was the only day that inspection could be made.

The entire furnishings and equipment of the big hotel will be sold to the highest bona fide bidder. They are complete in every detail and include everything that goes to make the furnishings of a high grade hotel.

Some of the largest locomotives yet manufactured in the United States are used on the Island of Java.

MISS MARDLE DENIES SHE PLOTTED MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 11.—Marian McArdle, aged 20 years, testifying in her own behalf yesterday denied she helped plot the murder of Daniel Kaber, her step-father, for which crime she is on trial, but declared she had often heard her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Brickell, discuss the plans.

Miss McArdle barred the story of her life in an effort to save herself from life imprisonment which the state asks on a first degree murder charge for alleged complicity with her mother in the death of the Lakewood publisher.

Miss McArdle testified that her mother and Mr. Kaber had frequently quarreled and threatened to kill each other, but she had never taken the threats seriously and said she had never had any trouble with Kaber. A severe cross-examination by Assistant County Prosecutor Cassidy failed to confuse her. She held to the main points of her story that she had no part in the murder plot. Cassidy did make her admit, however, that at the coroner's inquest, a few days after the killing, she had testified that she never heard her mother and step-father quarrel.

Like Salvatore Cala, one of the two hired assassins who stabbed Kaber to death and who is now serving a life imprisonment term following his confession and conviction, and who preceded her on the witness stand, Miss McArdle sought to shift the blame for the killing upon the shoulders of her 69-year-old grandmother.

She testified that her mother and grandmother frequently discussed the murder plans and that when she ought to remember she had been told to "shut up."

Cala sought to shield Miss McArdle in his testimony. He did not take the witness stand in his own behalf during the trial, his conviction being based largely on a confession made to police in Buffalo after his arrest there.

The defense practically completed its case with testimony by Miss McArdle's school teachers, called as character witnesses.

GETS FOUR YEARS FOR LARCENY OF AUTO

With District Attorney Endicott Peabody Sallston, recently appointed successor to Nathan A. Tufts, making his first appearance in that capacity before the Middlesex county superior criminal court, Benjamin Fine, of Cambridge and Lowell, charged with larceny of the automobile of Edwin M. Fuller, a local business man, was sentenced to four years' imprisonment by Judge John F. Brown at Cambridge yesterday.

It was the opening of the October session court and the new district attorney found three cases awaiting him, brought to light that his real name is not the one he gave the police, but is William A. Joyce, the name by which he was arrested and convicted times before. Fine, when he was called to stand from his seat in the docket, was immediately recognized by newspapermen and court attaches as William A. Joyce, of North Cambridge, a noted visitor to the court in years past. An investigation of the man's past disclosed the same record that was revealed by the local police here, the state A. Hall, unclassified, have won high department of correction shortly after his arrest and which was printed in full in The Sun. Judge Brown after hearing these things accepted a plea of guilty and sentenced Fine to four years in prison.

Fine or Joyce stole the automobile from Market street on September 19. He was arrested shortly after by Officer Small at Chelmsford. When returned before Judge Enright here he was held for the grand jury.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem OMNISCIENCE

THERE'S only twelve people on earth, so they say,
Who understand Einstein; but that isn't true.
Twelve get him, perhaps, in a "relative way,"
But full comprehension is given but two;
The deep inner meaning, the secret, the key,
Is known but to Einstein, to Einstein and Me.

BY Einstein's great theory all things are clear;
The tariff, domestic and foreign relations
The weather we get at this time of the year,
But, due to the average mind's limitations,
The answers are known in their en-tir-et-ees
To no one but Einstein—but Einstein and Me.

SUCH questions as, "Why don't the taxes go down?"
And "Why do the prices stay stubbornly high?"
And "Where is a flat to be rented in town?"
And "When will America really go dry?"
And "Where can I get it?" Such questions can be Solved only by Einstein, by Einstein and Me!

WE'VE settled all problems, we've doped them all out,
In seven dimensions, or maybe it's eight;
When Einstein has found himself somewhat in doubt
He's asked my opinion and I've set him straight;
But what our conclusions are, ever will be
A secret 'twixt Einstein—'twixt Einstein and Me!

Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—
Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records.

Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Sept. 2, 1921

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Jacksonville Branch, Jacksonville, Florida.
Gentlemen:—
I submit herewith the history of a 32x4 Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 57,000 miles. I have retreaded it seven times. The average mileage to each retreading was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tires proper inflation. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being sufficiently strong for another retread. I am enclosing photographs under separate cover.

Gentlemen:—
It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the set of Firestone Cord tires on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 14,000 miles. The second tire rolled up a mileage of between 34,000 and 35,000. There were both new tires and have been cut considerably by chases. The two front tires have gone over 34,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 10,000 miles from each of them. I have been told that the Firestone Cord will be 100,000 miles for the future.

Lady So Weak She Could Scarcely Walk

After Years of Suffering Quickly Regains Strength

Mrs. T. R. Crane of St. Johnland, Kings Park, Long Island, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for years with non-assimilation of food, gas and bloating to a very distressing degree, nervousness, nervous chills, and irregular and weak heart action. I lost flesh and strength until I was scarcely able to walk from my room. My limbs got so numb and weak that when I tried to walk even a short distance I felt I must sit down at once if I didn't want to fall down. "A friend told me that what I needed was Vincarnal, that it would be the best thing in the world for me. I took Vincarnal and such it proved to be in my case. It helped me in every way and did it quickly. I soon gained new flesh and blood, strength and vim. I feel alive once more. I always keep Vincarnal on hand for I found it a friend, tried and true."

Vincarnal is a tonic, a restorative, a bloodmaker and a nerve-strengthener all in one. It supplies to the system those mineral elements without which the body is absolutely unable to create necessary vital energy and nerve force. That is why Mrs. Crane improved so rapidly while taking Vincarnal. The same result has followed the use of Vincarnal in thousands of similar and equally pitiful cases. It has been recommended by more than 10,000 physicians who, from personal experience, have found Vincarnal to possess extraordinary power in promoting health in those who are weak, nervous or run down, or who are martyrs to indigestion or enfeebled by old age, or who are striving vainly to regain their strength after a wasting illness.

Vincarnal is put up in two sizes—$1.10 and $1.95. It is sold by Burkinshaw Drug Co., 115-418 Midway St. and all other first class drug stores. Write for free instructive booklet, "Hundred Per Cent Health—How to Obtain It," to Edward Lassere, Inc., Dept. G, 400 West 23rd Street, New York, U. S. Agents for Vincarnal.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

KEITH'S THEATRE

If the well-known first business man attended in a great number of last night, and doubtless he did, and providing he does his duty during the week in telling others about it, well, there shouldn't be an empty seat at Keith's theatre at any performance, as long as the program is as good as the one which is being presented, and neither should there be left a single example of the same by next Sunday night.

For although Keith's usually provides good entertainment, the program of this week is of an excellence which obliterates any memories of past failures. It is a good bill for a holiday week and the three performances on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, at 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 p. m., should draw well.

As to the feature matter of the program, perhaps it was one or perhaps it was another—it was hard to tell, so much as it would be just as well to begin at the beginning.

The evening was started with a rush by Bert and Lotta Walton, whose whirlwind act of "A Song, a Chat and a Dance" won a generous hand. It might be added that it is the song and chat which is received so enthusiastically—it isn't so good—but their eccentric dancing is good, and three rather dapper dancers.

When Jack Lavier appeared on the stage last evening, and a trapeze was let down a few moments after, what this big actor could accomplish, and heavy, and there was considerable doubt as to whether he could perform gracefully in mid-air. He did it. He was awkward, but intentionally and seemingly so, and the audience in a continuous fit of laughter punctuated by screams from not a few feminine onlookers when he fell from his high perch. As an aid to his antics, Lavier has a good line of patter.

"Her Beautiful Romeo" brought before the footlights Frank Fisher and Edna Gilmore, who opened and closed with a song. But it was their best in the sketch in which the two, representing country sweethearts, finally became engaged to be married. It required a great amount of effort on the part of the girl, however, to make her lover ask the deciding question and it is in this dialogue that the two comedians scored.

In Lowell, as in every other city where they have appeared, Claude and Fannie Usher have a great number of followers who come to them without question, the leading place on the bill. Certain it is that the production of "The Blide-A-Wee Home," which has been seen here several times before but which is better than ever this winter, they have a vehicle which they can have as no one else could. With her husky boyish voice, Miss Usher is delightful in her role of the "tough" young girl who comes to work for through her father's failing, she brings tears to the eyes of her audience, but always she dashes them away with a laugh and again, Claude as the house of laughter again, Claude as the house of laughter again, Claude as the house of laughter again.

An act entirely different from that usually offered on a vaudeville circuit is that given by J. Kela Brennan and Jimmie Dale, who are two song writers who sing some of their own songs in a manner well worth hearing. Jazz, mighty little of it, is mixed in with the songs, which is the better class of songs which they give. This pair of musicians has recalled several times for encores.

Pigeons, rabbits, cats and dogs, a little group of lovable animals known as Klutche's "Pigeons," conclude the bill with a well-trained act which caused many people who said "Oh, let's not stay for the animal act," to remain seated until the last of them had been through their performance. Perhaps the cleverest part of this act was provided by the cats who slaked a bovine, watch, some high jumps and a balloon ride.

The bill closes with some really remarkable moving pictures of birds and "The Fox and the Crane" of Aescops Fables fame, is delightful. Concluding the bill is the Pathe News weekly.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two Paramount pictures of exceptional merit are on the taps at the Merrimack Square theatre for the first half of the week. Both were received yesterday afternoon and evening by enthusiastic spectators.

The feature production is "The Great Impersonation," George Melford picture starring the noted James Kirkwood. "Dangerous Lies," story of English life, with David Lowell in the leading role, is the other feature.

"The Great Impersonation" was written by E. Phillips Oppenheim, who writes for a large public—probably one of the largest claimed by any American or English author. The plot deals with a mysterious mix-up in identities and is concerned with incidents immediately preceding the great war. There are many extras in the various scenes which include episodes in German East Africa, the royal court of Berlin and the palace drawing rooms of an English mansion.

One of the best Paramount pictures thus far made in England with an English cast of players, is "Dangerous Lies." It is Paul I. Jones production in which David Lowell is featured, and its dramatic qualities and strong appeal created a profound impression.

The story deals with the beautiful daughter of an English rector in a small town who is forced by circumstances to marry a man she detests and who has brought her to ruin in a swindling mining scheme. When he flees to escape arrest and she hears of his death in South America, she marries Sir Henry Bond. Subsequently her first husband reappears and trouble follows. The ending, however, is quite happy.

The theme shows the danger of lying when the truth should be told. The third big feature is a Clyde Cook comedy, "The Jockey," one of the most entertaining films ever shown on a local screen. The International News completes the bill.

RIALTO THEATRE

Katherine MacDonald, the personification of feminine loveliness, has been making great strides of progress with her histrionic talent. This fact is forcibly brought home in her latest starring vehicle, "Trust Your Wife," which opened its three-day engagement to a capacity house at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon.

The picture is unquestionably the best that has yet been given the famous star and it is due to her with a wide range of opportunity to display her art as an emotional and dramatic actress.

"Trust Your Wife" is adapted from Harry S. Sheldon's stage play, "Confession." In it Miss MacDonald gives a splendid characterization of Margaret Hastings, the bride of a young western architect who goes to New York to put over a money-making scheme on a shrewd financier. The newsworld put out a big story that the actress, living in a sumptuous apartment which is really beyond her means, had endeavored to get the backing of "Buster" P. Holcomb, who is attracted by the architect's young wife, promises to advance money, but later, when he learns their financial condition, tells Dick that he must give up the scheme.

Dick, the husband, is disappointed and a letter from his home back alluding to a note doesn't help matters any. Margaret determines secretly to visit Holcomb, to tell him the truth and to break the contract. She finds him half intoxicated on his yacht at night and her subtle appeal finally arouses his inner conscience to a sense of justice.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 11.—A. B. Burgess, a negro, probably has the largest family in Georgia. He is the father of 32 children, and has had three wives. Twenty-six of the children are living. The negro has had seven sets of twins and two sets of triplets.

and respectability. She prepares to leave the cabin but before she can disembark the yacht slowly slips down the harbor. Dick, who has been informed of his wife's presence on board the yacht, arrives at the pier just in time to see the form of the boat sliding down the river.

A very tense and dramatic situation follows Burgess's return home, but the rest of the film is carried out with ease and backing for Dick's business scheme, smoothes out the tangle most happily for all concerned.

This production David Winter is Katherine MacDonald's leading man, and Charles Richmond takes the part of the millionaire. Other members of the cast include Mary Allen and the stars sister, Miriam MacDonald. The whole production is extremely well acted and is an artistic as well as a dramatic triumph.

J. A. Barry is the director of "Trust Your Wife," which is an Associated First National release. In conjunction with the feature production the Rialto has for the first three days of the week another charming picture, "Problem of the Opera House," starring Joseph Moore and Elaine Sedwick. This concerns the sacrifices that a former crook makes for his little crippled brother, how he manages to pay for a cure for the latter, and finally wins his way to country life for an honest living, taking with him a young woman who was his former partner in the safe cracking game. The program also carries a snappy Christie comedy and an up-to-the-minute set of Kingstons.

OPERA HOUSE
"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," Eugene Walter's dramatization of John Fox's famous story of that name, is the attraction at the Opera House this week. The Lowell Players, in producing this play, have departed from the usual run of modern productions, but nevertheless have lost none of their genuine ability to put on a play and play it well, as was clearly demonstrated at the first performance last night.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is a play of Civil war days staged in old Kentucky, the majority of its scenes being laid in the very heart of the mountains. It is in summing the characters of mountain-aiders and soldiers of the great rebellion between the north and south that the players deserve much credit, inasmuch as every role is played to perfection and unstinted applause showed the appreciation by the large audience last night.

The parts taken by the players and the order in which they appear are as follows:
Major Calvin Buford.....David Baker
Squire Middleton.....Richard Costilla
Chad.....William Howard
Melissy.....Mollie Scott
Doris.....Kathleen Scott
Joel Turner.....Seth Arnold
Nathan Cherry.....Jack Matthews
Miss Lucy.....Mabel Griffith
Margaret Dean.....Ollie Minelli
Richard Hunt.....Clarence Chase
Thompson.....John Ravold

The production, a four act vehicle, opens with the Kentucky mountains, several years before the Civil war broke out. Chad, just a wandering boy, played by the leading man, William Howard, meets Melissy, addition there is also a series of news

THE STRAND THEATRE
Two very enjoyable photo-dramas as well as a pleasing comedy constitute the bill at The Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. In addition there is also a series of news

PAINFUL JOINTS

In no disease does the blood become thin so rapidly as in rheumatism. Not only does it become thin but it is loaded with impurities—the rheumatic poisons. Without proper treatment these poisons increase, the joints inflame and swell and the patient becomes a cripple.

There are a number of methods of treating rheumatism, most of them aiming to keep down the rheumatic poisons until nature can build up the blood sufficiently to overcome them. But unfavorable conditions of cold or dampness may give the disease the advantage and a relapse or renewed attack follows.

Good, healthy blood increases the resistance to disease. It is easier to keep up this resistance by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, eating proper food, avoiding articles of food that do not agree with you and getting plenty of fresh air day and night, than it is to cure the disease after it gets a foothold. Keep up the resistance of your body to disease by these tonic pills.

A book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. It contains directions regarding diet, baths and hygiene for rheumatic patients.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. Price 60 cents per box. —Adv.

LONDON PLANS WARM WELCOME FOR PERSHING

LONDON, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press).—The British government last night telegraphed to Paris expressing its pleasure at the proposed visit of Gen. Pershing to lay the Congressional Medal of Honor on the tomb of the British unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey, and Gen. Pershing is assured the warmest welcome.

(A Paris dispatch of Sunday night, quoting what was said to be a most authoritative source, stated that Gen. Pershing intended to sail for home on Oct. 20, and would not go to London for the ceremony at the unknown soldier's tomb because of the lack of available time for the trip between the present time and his sailing date. If the ceremony was held, the despatch added, another American officer would be designated to represent the United States.)

THIN PEOPLE

There are 30,000,000,000 Red Corpuscles in Your Blood and Each one Must Have Vitamins Before You Can Ever Hope to Weigh Normal

If you are thin, scrawny, haggard and rundown looking, and no matter how much you spend in clothes they fail to make you look dressed up and fashionable and you know the chief contributory cause of your wretchedly poor appearance is lack of normal weight, you should eat more vitamins containing vegetables such as lettuce, spinach and apples, and reinforce them from time to time when eating your meals with a little MEDIC-YEST, which is rich in vitamins, "the soul of the food," so well spoken of by scientists and chemists as a vital food element.

If you want to put on good solid, firm, lasting flesh and build your low normal weight to normal with plenty of real nerve force, strength and vitality, you should obtain from your druggist a package of palatable, harmless, health-giving nourishment in the form of Medicinal Yeast under the name of MEDIC-YEST.

MEDIC-YEST represents vitamins in such a highly concentrated form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equal (in vitamin content) to eating two heads of lettuce, half a quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or six apples. It's like taking the extract of best instead of eating pounds of meat. MEDIC-YEST is partially predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by your system.

To prove to yourself what MEDIC-YEST will do try this simple, well worth trying test: Weigh and measure yourself; next take MEDIC-YEST—two tablets with meals; then measure and weigh yourself again each week and simply continue taking until your ideal weight, looks and energy satisfy you—the scales, tape measure and mirror won't deceive you.

Thousands are using MEDIC-YEST with meals to put on solid, firm, strong, healthy flesh, color in their cheeks and new strength and energy. Results are guaranteed or money refunded by manufacturer.

Frederic Howard and A. W. Dows carry MEDIC-YEST. Your own druggist has it in stock or can quickly get it for you. Write name of your other druggist on this place—Adv.

ALLEN TO MOVE TO OUST DIST. ATTY. PELLETIER

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Attorney General Allen announced last night following a conference with Henry F. Hurst, president of the Boston Bar Association, his decision that charges brought by the grievance committee of the association against District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier of Suffolk county require that proceedings be instituted for the removal of the district attorney in accordance with the recommendations.

After considering the committee's report with Mr. Hurst, Mr. Allen said he had decided that the charges set forth in the report sustained the position taken by the association in asking the district attorney's removal.

District Attorney Pelletier was charged by the council of the Bar Association with being culpable in an alleged "shake down" by lawyers in which $20,000 in one instance and $10,000 in another are said to have been paid to persons other than the district attorney. He also was charged by the council with failure to prosecute an alleged confidence man because a lawyer friend was attorney in the case.

As a result of the conference today it was announced as "probable" that Mr. Allen and the Bar Association would join as petitioners in bringing the information and that the attorney general and the association would each designate counsel to prosecute the information in the supreme judicial court.

"In accordance with his decision, the attorney general is having specifications prepared for the information," the announcement said.

Mr. Hurst is intending to call a special meeting of the council in the immediate future to select an attorney to represent the Bar Association and to take any other steps in connection with the proposed action.

MURPHY CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR OF BOSTON

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Fire Commissioner John H. Murphy last night made a formal announcement of his candidacy for mayor of Boston.

The occasion was a meeting of the municipal election committee of the League of Women Voters at its headquarters, 2 Chestnut st.

Mr. Murphy outlined his platform in 14 points and emphasized the statement that the conduct of the affairs of a city like Boston is a business proposition and requires business judgment and experience. He gave the highest praise to Mayor Peters' administration and said that under the most trying conditions he has done his full duty.

In announcing his candidacy he said: "I believe that the right place to announce my candidacy for mayor of Boston is before the women voters. In becoming a candidate I am following the advice of many citizens of Boston and believe that now is the opportune time for me to do so."

In connection with Mr. Murphy's announcement, it is of interest that committee of the Good Government association and the republican city committee held a long conference on the mayoralty situation yesterday.

No announcement was made after the meeting, but politicians believe that Mr. Murphy has good reason to anticipate that he will receive the endorsement of the Good Government association, which probably will not now be long delayed.

DEMOCRATS FOR LEAGUE

Jas. M. Cox, Presidential Candidate Condemns "Abandonment of Allies"

DAYTON, O., Oct. 11.—The democratic party stands "infinitely as we did when the polls closed last November, for the League of Nations with the United States as its co-operative part of it," declared in a message sent to the democratic club of Southern California, Sanqueting last night at Los Angeles.

"History will record the abandonment of our allies as an unworthy episode," the message continued. "It would have done no worse if our troops had been withdrawn from France on the morning of the battle of Chateau-Thierry."

"Let me extend my congratulations to the members and guests of our organization. The events of the past year, notwithstanding they brought defeat at the polls, are heartening to the cause of democracy. In the midst of chaos internally and uncertainty in republican policy, we stand inflexibly as we did when the polls closed last November for the League of Nations with the United States as its co-operative part of it. It is infinitely better to maintain a vital principle even though it involve a temporary setback than it is to surrender honor to expediency for the mere purpose of winning an election. History will record the abandonment of our allies as an unworthy episode. It would have been no worse if our troops had been withdrawn from France on the morning of the battle of Chateau-Thierry."

"The spectacle of regarding the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as a scrap of paper just as we begin conference with a group of nations of disrepute is a sad commentary on the behavior of a country whose life and traditions have been above reproach. Apparently the national administration is guided by its non-sacred policies by the un-American elements that made its election possible. We are not a renegade nation and we

White Calls Meeting

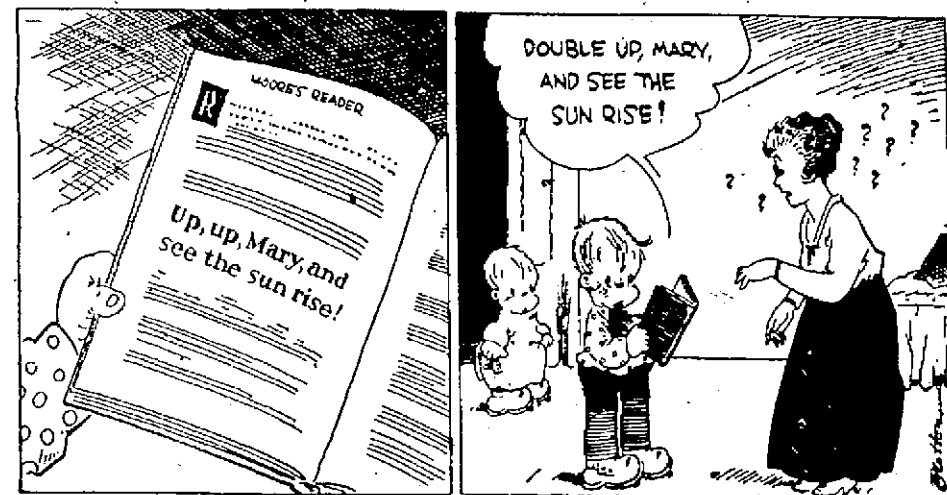

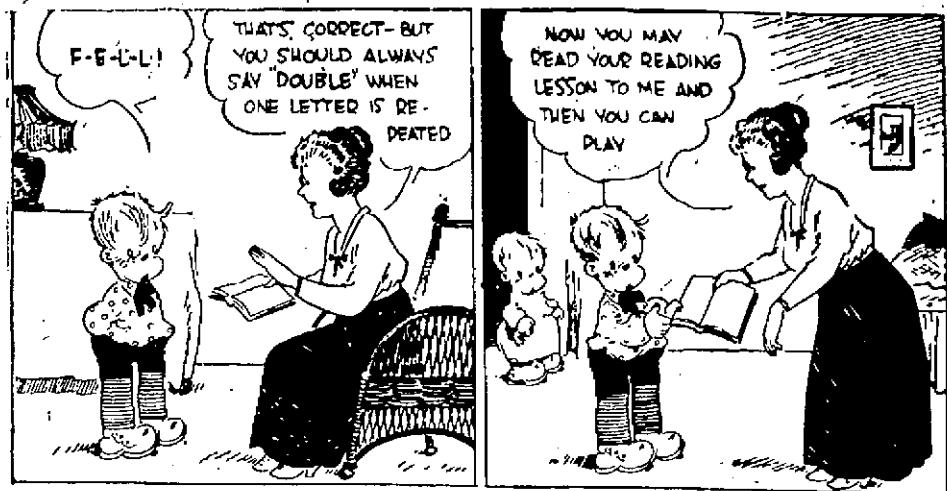

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Chairman George White of the democratic national committee, last night issued a formal call for a meeting of that body in St. Louis, Tuesday, November 1. The meeting, the formal notification said, was to discuss party policy, and "to adopt plans for future operations."

"Sufficient time has elapsed," said the official call, "since the last meeting of the committee to make it advisable to have a survey of the situation throughout the country and to have the counsel of the entire membership of the committee."

Among other subjects which party leaders here said would come up for discussion was that of the deficit from the last campaign. The deficit has been materially reduced, according to Mr. White, but a final settlement is desired.

DROPS 1500 FEET IN BLAZING PARACHUTE

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Harry Fox, a balloonist of Charleston, W. Va., narrowly escaped death yesterday when a guide rope of his balloon in which he was flying over Point Pleasant caught fire and spread to the parachute and the cutaway rope. He was 1500 feet in the air but risked the jump. The burning parachute did not collapse until within 75 feet of the ground, the balloonist alighting on a sand pile. He suffered two broken ribs. The balloon came down undamaged.

Fox's father, William S. Fox, was killed in Dayton in 1917 during experimental flights, and his brother, Alfred, met death in an airplane accident at Newark, N. J., in 1915. Fox said last night that he would continue flying.

ROBBERS RAID STORE AT EAST DOUGLAS

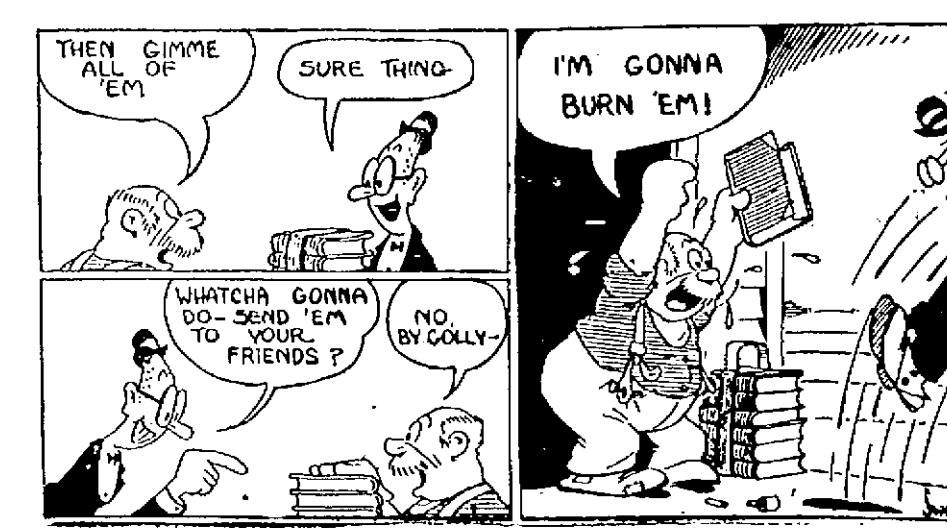

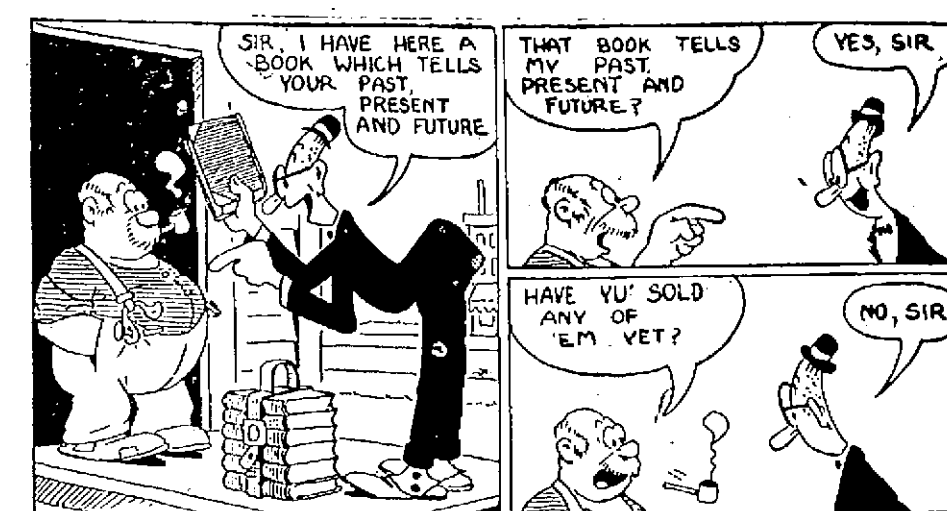

EAST DOUGLAS, Oct. 11.—Covering Postmaster Paul T. Manning, his assistant and two customers with guns, three strangers, who are believed to have come in an automobile, relieved the village store of about $125 in cash early last night and escaped. The post office, which is in the store, was not touched. Roads to surrounding towns are being watched.

Traces of an automobile in which the men are believed to have made their getaway were found a short distance from the general store in which the office is located.

When news of the robbery spread through the town a posse of farmers was organized and scoured the countryside for traces of the men, but without result.

"OH!" CHILD NANCY PULLING AT THE FINE WHITE THREAD THAT WAS WRAPPED ROUND AND ROUND HER

"OH!" cried Nancy, pulling at the fine white thread that was wrapped round and round her. Nick, too, was tugging with all his might, for he was a prisoner as well as Nancy.

"Do you suppose we're caught in the shrimp-net that the shrimps told us about?" wondered Nancy in dismay. "Do you suppose the shrimp-fishers will pickle up and put us into cans?"

Nick sniffed. "If they do, we can wish ourselves out with our Mangle Green Shoes."

"Then why can't we wish ourselves out of this?" asked Nancy. "I've wished and wished and nothing happens."

"This is different," said Nick. "We can't wish things off of us."

Suddenly someone said, "Why don't you take off your hands like we do? Then the cotton-spinners won't hurt you."

"Goodness!" exclaimed Nancy, peering through the water. "Who are you; and what do you mean by talking of cotton-spinners and hands? What sort of a creature are you? Your voice sounds familiar."

In a moment a green figure slid into view, a creature with poppy eyes, long feelers, a fan tail and sharp claws as large as all the rest of him.

"Loppy Lobster!" cried both twins at once. "Did you get through with growing, and put on a new shell?"

"Yes," nodded Loppy, looking around uneasily, "and to tell you the truth, this is no place for me after all the pains I've taken to grow."

"Don't you mean all the pains you've had to grow?" asked Nick.

"Oh, parties always bothered me in grammar," said Loppy impatiently. "The thing is—where are the cotton-spinners that tied you?"

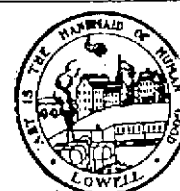

"My, but you are queer, Loppy!" declared Nancy. "Do tell us what you mean."

LIGHT VOTE ON GAS REFERENDUM

VOTERS SLOW TO VISIT POLLS

Only Exception is Precinct 2 of Ward 9 Where Voting is Lively

Percentage of Women Voters Better Than Figures for Male Voters

Lowell voters, men and women alike, did not hurry to the polls this morning to vote on the proposed municipal purchase and operation of the gas light company's plant. In many precincts visited by Sun men between 8 and 12 o'clock wardens reported the vote as unusually light. It was remarkably quiet in most of the wards, the usual display of automobiles in front of polling places being missing except in the more central precincts.

Up to noon, when the real rush of votes came along augmented by the ballots of mill workers and others of regular occupations, the total vote cast, as estimated by election commissioners familiar with the votes of previous years at special and state elections, was the smallest ever known with the exception of a ward or two in the high street territory, where the vote in at least one precinct surprised the officials in charge of the ballot box.

At noon 77 votes had been dropped into the box in precinct 1, ward 1, Market street. The election officials here expressed themselves as surprised at "the small vote," but thought the electorate would be on hand during the noon-hour and after 5 p. m. and swell the figures to about the size recorded at previous special elections.

On the Market street voting lists are the names of 612 men and women.

OBSERVANCE OF COLUMBUS DAY

Knights of Columbus Exercises Principal Feature—No Municipal Observance

Many Sporting Events Are Scheduled for Afternoon and Evening

Arrangements have been completed for tomorrow's observance of Columbus day here, the formal details of which are in the hands of the Knights of Columbus. Members of Lowell council, No. 72, and Bishop Delany General Assembly, fourth degree, will assemble in their rooms at 8:30, and will march to St. Peter's church headed by the Lowell Cadet band and officers of the order. They will attend 9 o'clock mass at the conclusion of which they will return to their rooms in the Associate building, where luncheon will be served.

At 11:30 o'clock, the Lowell Knights will take special cars for Haverhill where they will participate in the big state parade to be held in that city. Friends of the council are invited to make the trip with the knights.

There will be no municipal observance of the day, but sport lovers will have their share of excitement.

SCHOOL OBSERVANCES

High School Exercises at Keith's Theatre—Other School Programs

Gathered to pay tribute to the memory of the discoverer of America, the observance of a national holiday will be observed tomorrow, nearly 2000 students of the Lowell high schools, with their parents and friends, assembled at Keith's theatre at 11 o'clock this morning for a program of readings, musical numbers and addresses. Because the theatre could not accommodate them, 12 freshmen classes of the high school were dismissed for the day. They will attend the Armistice day exercises to be held in the theatre on Nov. 10, when the freshmen attending this morning will not be present.

Preceded by several musical numbers by the high school orchestra, which, under the supervision of Frederick O. Blunt, supervisor of music in the Lowell schools, numbers 30 members this year, Henry H. Harris, principal of the school, explained the purpose of the assembly stating that rather than dealing with the plain facts of the discovery of America, the program would lean toward the benefits to this as well as to other countries which have resulted from the discovery. Mr. Harris also stated that it was the hope of the school that before many more large assemblies were held the new observance would be a reality.

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 11.—The Giants and Yankees met here this afternoon in the sixth game of the world's series. The Yankees who entered the contest with the edge of three to two were confident of adding another victory to their list, while the Giants were out to again get on even terms with their American league rivals.

Manager Huggins picked Harper to start, while Manager McCraw sent Toney, who had been driven from the box in his other start to the mound. Toney was again greeted with a fusillade of hits, and for the second time he was yanked from the game. Harper fared no better, for in the second inning the Giants jumped on him for a sequence of hits, including two home runs, by Muesel and Snyder, and evened up the score. Shawkey went in to relieve Harper and Barnes went to Toney's rescue. In the Yankees' half of the second "Chick" Fawcett, who went into the lineup to sub for Ruth, made good with a bang, when after Shawkey had singled, he sent out a terrific drive for a home run, putting the Yanks again in the lead.

It was learned at the clubhouse that Waite Hoyt had pitched eight innings yesterday with a finger split by a grounder from Frisch's bat. He refused to leave the game.

The day was bright and clear and the sun toasted the early comers in the bleachers. The crowd came late. The Yankees today played host to the Giants, who were the visitors.

First Inning

Giants—Burns stroled on four balls. Bancroft flied out to Fawcett. Frisch fanned. Fawcett made a wonderful running catch of Young's foul.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Umpire Moriarty ordered Ruth who was in civilian clothes, to leave the Yankees' bench. Fawcett walked. Peck fouled to Frisch. Miller got an infield single, which tore Bancroft's hands apart. Fawcett scored on Muesel's single to center. Miller going to third. Muesel went to second on the throw in. Pip went out. Kelly to Rawlings. Miller held third. Miller and Muesel scored on Ward's drive over second base. Toney was knocked out of the box by the foul ball in the series, and Barnes took his place. Ward's hit was a single. Muesel flied out to Young.

Three runs, three hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Giants—Kelly walked on four pitched balls. Muesel got a home run into the right field stands, scoring Kelly ahead of him. Rawlings flied out to Miller. Snyder got a home run into the left field stand, tying the score. Barnes singled into center. Harper was taken out of the box, Shawkey taking his place. Barnes singled into right. Barnes going to second. Bancroft struck out. Frisch flied out to Muesel.

Three runs, four hits, no errors.

"However, I began improving rapidly as soon as I started taking Tania. And four bottles of the medicine have restored my health and strength completely. The indigestion, nervousness, spells and blinding headaches that almost drove me distracted. My nerves were so shattered that a good night's sleep was simply out of the question and I was so weak and worn out I was just miserable all the time.

LINCOLN CLUB MEETING

Casey and Campbell Discuss Proposed New Charter in Colonial Hall

Hon. James B. Casey, chairman of the charter commission, and Abel R. Campbell, secretary, were the two speakers at a mass meeting held in Colonial hall, Middle street, last evening. Mr. Casey explained every phase of the proposed new city charter, throwing much light on the subject, while Mr. Campbell explained in a very interesting manner the details of the commission, which drafted the new charter. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Lincoln club and was presided over by its president, Edgar P. Dougherty.

In his opening remarks Mr. Dougherty said the Lincoln club is absolutely unbiased on the charter question. What the organization wants, he said, is a fair public discussion of the merits of the present and the proposed charter. (He stated that Mr. Casey would be the principal speaker at the evening and that at the close of the speaker's address questions could be asked.)

Mr. Campbell was first introduced and as secretary of the commission he said the commission was appointed by Mayor Thompson under an act passed by the legislature. The commission, he said, is composed of 15 men, republicans and democrats and at no time during the deliberations or discussions was partisanship ever mentioned. Continuing Mr. Campbell said: "There are people who are discussing the new charter as the Casey charter, but these people are endeavoring to create a wrong impression, for the charter is not a Casey charter but the charter of 15 men legally appointed by the mayor of your city."

If You're a Young Woman or Even in Middle Life

Here Is Some Good Advice for You From a Prominent Woman

Albany, N. Y.—"I will gladly praise Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. My first test of it, over twenty years ago, when I was a rather delicate girl in a run-down condition, was to change me to a robust, happy girl full of life. About seven years later, during motherhood, it again proved wonderful. Many times since then when in need of a tonic it has proved to be the same wonderful builder—all and more than is claimed for it."—Mrs. E. Connor, 32 West St.

SIMPLE APPLICATION THAT DISSOLVES BLACKHEADS

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of calomel and rub from your drugstore—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds, wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Any drugstore will sell you the calomel powder and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.—Adv.

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions

(Helps to Beautify)

Here is a simple, unassuming way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs. With some powdered talcum and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply in and about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the talcum in an original package.—Adv.

A PARISIAN SURPRISE GOWN

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Individuality is assuredly the keynote of this gown, which breathes after into our modern fashions the spirit of 1830.

Not only the shoulder cape but the removable gauntlets of astrakhan recall those old-time cuts of fashionable skaters in grandmother's days.

Jenny, of course, is responsible for this Mary Walls model, with its lovely, straight lined, gray crepe gown girdled in silver links and the broad band of astrakhan at the bottom of the skirt.

The sleeves are long and the astrakhan gauntlets cut loose and long so that they meet the full cape.

This cape, with its four huge silver filigree buttons, has a choker collar.

It is lined with the gray crepe.

When the gauntlets and cape are removed, a charmingly simple and rich costume is revealed.

While the surprise of seeing mild lady take off the accessories bit by bit adds to that ever fascinating Parisian chic.

92 P. C. of Switchmen Vote to Strike

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Although 92 per cent of the members of the Switchmen's Union of North America voted to authorize a strike, officers who left for Chicago today to attend a conference of railroad union representatives expressed the belief that no strike would be called unless further wage reductions are proposed. The organizations represented at the Chicago conference and their membership are: Trainmen, 150,000; firemen, 115,000; engineers, 80,000; conductors, 50,000; switchmen, 14,000.

The charter is not perfect, but the commission believes it is far better than the one under which we are now living and which has been in force for the past 11 years.

In his opening remarks Mr. Casey commended the public spirit of the Lincoln club in arranging for the meeting, as he said, the organization is showing its interest in civic matters. "The acceptance of the proposed charter," said the speaker, "is not affecting me personally, and I may say right here that as far as I know there are no members of the charter commission who are candidates for office."

"Government is political," said Mr. Casey, "and it will remain so, but this does not mean that we must not have efficiency in public affairs. Why is the voter so indifferent in civic matters? Is it because he does not want to be called a politician? If you are a republican do not let the word politician worry you, because it generally applies to the poor democrat only. The voters at the polls want good government, but the reason we vote as we do is because we are loyal to our party affiliations."

Mr. Casey then discussed the various articles of the charter, giving his ideas as to why a change is necessary. He said the commission after thorough discussion was unable to recommend the present charter because there is too much secrecy under present conditions. "The new charter," he continued, "is no panacea for the ills of government, but it would be a distinct improvement over the instrument under which the city is now operating. Do you realize that since the charter went into effect some 11 years ago, only 13 men have served as aldermen and only three as mayor? Is not that showing that under present conditions Lowell is not enjoying representative government?"

The speaker then dwelt at length on the position of mayor, saying that under the present charter the chief executive has no more authority than any one of the four commissioners. He is mayor in social functions only, referring to the position of mayor under the new charter Mr. Casey said he would have power to nominate department heads, which nominations, however, would be subject to confirmation by the council. He would have the right to suspend any department head, but this suspension would also be subject to the council's approval.

Mr. Casey then took up the various positions such as chief of police, chief of the fire department, purchasing agent, etc. and contrasted the difference between the present and proposed charters, saying that under the new charter each man would be responsible for his respective department.

The speaker then took up the school department and said that many crimes are committed against the taxpayer's pocketbook in the name of education.

CHINESE REPUBLIC

Tenth Anniversary Observed by Chinese Students of Textile School

The tenth anniversary of the establishment of the Chinese republic was celebrated by the Chinese students attending the Textile school, by a very enjoyable banquet followed by appropriate exercises at the Y.M.C.A. banquet hall last evening.

The invited guests included the faculty of the Textile school with their wives, Mayor Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, Agent Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills, Secretary Wells of the chamber of commerce, representatives of the press and a few others.

The hall was tastefully decorated with the Chinese and American national colors.

Mr. C. C. Gilbert Kao presided as toastmaster and filled the position in a very efficient manner.

Mayor Thompson delivered a brief address expressing his good wishes for the success of the Chinese republic and the young men who are so deeply interested in its destinies. As usual, his remarks proved a very entertaining speaker.

C. C. GILBERT KAO, Toastmaster

Principal James responded briefly, paying tribute to the Chinese students and alluding to the prominence the Textile school had attained in attracting students from other countries.

Originally he said its purpose was to help the textile industries in Lowell and vicinity, but it had outgrown that and has never turned students away regardless of whence they came.

Mr. T. S. Thom took a leading part in the program as a speaker and a vocalist. He speaks English quite fluently. Mr. C. George Wang gave an oriental melody and the entire students, fifteen in number, gave the yell of the new republic, which was certainly quite stirring. The Chinese national anthem was sung with flute accompaniment by C. Calvin Chang, Clarence Mu. "America" was also sung, the audience joining.

Japan Criticized

Mr. Theodore Lee spoke on the Chinese republic and Japanese aggression.

He said that in recent years America has shown a strong sympathy for China and an effort to understand the Chinese people. He was proud to speak of China as one of the most wonderful nations on earth. Her music, her arts and her literature have shed a great deal of light upon the period of oriental history that would otherwise be blank to the world. Her philosophy deserves a profound study of the learned scholars from every land. Her friendship, courtesy and her hospitality extended to foreign guests have convinced them that China is one of the best places in the world to live in.

The revolution of 1911, in the short space of three months, overthrew the monarchy that had its beginning some 4000 years ago. That was one of the greatest achievements of the 20th century.

To review the history of the new republic of China is to review the growth, require a discussion of Japanese interference and aggression. The manner in which Japan has murdered the Chinese people, taken possession of Shantung, and smuggled opium into China has stirred the wrath of every representative of the Chinese people. As a result, every true son of China is ready to fight to the bitter end for the redemption of his country from the grasp and domination of the Japanese. There is no more reason why Japan should occupy one foot of Chinese territory than there is that she should plant her flag on the shores of California.

The demands made by Japan upon the Chinese people, constitute the most painful and outrageous experiences in our 4000 years of history. It is a blot upon the history of the 20th century. China has immense man power and boundless resources which she will give freely to the world; but she never will submit to be openly robbed. China appreciates very highly the friendly and sympathetic attitude of the United States. Since the declaration of the open door policy, the United States has rendered China very valuable help in a great many ways.

FUTURE VERY BRIGHT, SAYS BULLARD

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—"No country in the world is sitting on as even a keel or has as promising a future as this country," declared Washington F. Bullard, vice president of the Merchants National bank, yesterday afternoon at the opening session of the Tenney Service convention at the Engineers club. He pointed out the extent of depletion business has been through, the improvement shown in various industries, and concluded that "one of the most hopeful signs of the day is the changed attitude of labor." This, he explained, was partly shown by labor's willingness to work longer hours. He traced conditions in each of the foreign countries which he had visited during the past summer. All the countries in Europe, except Russia and Spain, have recognized their fundamental difficulties. Mr. Bullard asserted, "and such recognition is a move forward."

TO PERPETUATE THE 26TH DIVISION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Encouraging progress in the post-war reorganization of the National Guard was reported yesterday by the war department, the aggregate strength of the state forces to date being placed at 126,000 officers and men as compared with the authorized total of 215,397 permitted under existing laws up to June 30, 1922. The statement said the militia bureau already had been forced to deny recognition in some cases to guard units, as available federal funds for the year would not permit their inclusion.

In the reorganization, it was pointed out, the same lessons learned in the world war that dictated the policy as to the regular army had been applied to state forces. Definite units of the service, including tank corps, air service, motor transport, and all modern artillery units, have been fixed for the guard and a considerable showing made in development of these branches. The effect is to have created in the 15 months since the passage of the reorganization act a substantial framework of each of the 17 national guard divisions forming the first supporting force for the regulars in the event of war.

Under the new military policy there will be one regular division, two national guard divisions and the officer personnel and a 10 per cent enlisted nucleus for each of three organized reserve divisions in each of the nine army corps areas. The nine areas, in turn, are divided into three army areas, each containing three corps.

A few national guard cavalry units are under organization, although the 18 divisions mentioned are all infantry troops. With the completion of the cavalry organizations, the department statement said, there will be in the country enough mounted troops to form four cavalry divisions in addition to the regular cavalry.

National guard divisions have been allotted so far as possible the numerical designations of the war-time divisions, beginning with the 26th. In harmony with the state associations which marked the war-time units. Six states, Massachusetts (26th) Division; New York (27), Pennsylvania (28), Texas (30th), and Ohio (31th), have sufficient population to justify assigning the complete divisions. The smaller states are geographically grouped in the other divisions with the 43d added to the war-time lists to take care of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The Chinese government will establish an air mail service between Peking and Tsinan, capital of Shantung province.

Italy in Good Position

The most hopeful conditions, Mr. Bullard found in Italy, where crops are bountiful and industry booming in many lines. He emphasized the heavy taxation burden in England, which he said, is five times greater than in this country or in France.

He predicted a sure foreign market in the future for surplus goods from this country. He thought some protective tariff was needed, but did not favor the Fordney measure.

"Any man who is a pessimist if this great land of ours, which can't see a period of returning prosperity, I point out as narrow," Mr. Bullard concluded.

The afternoon session was opened by Col. Charles H. Tenney, Mr. H. Aylesworth, executive manager of the National Electric Light Association, called the public utilities laws of Massachusetts "blue laws." "One privilege of living in the west," he said, "is that we're not afraid to try things out. We've got a lot of new-fangled ideas, most of which will be done away with. But we try them out."

Although the speaker championed the regulation of public utilities, he opposed municipal or government ownership.

The sessions will continue today and Gov. Cox will be the chief guest. Tomorrow the more than 100 public utility men in attendance will go on an outing to Sausalito Lake Inn, Lynnfield.

PEACE MUST GUARANTEE FREEDOM—DE VALERA

DUBLIN, Oct. 11. (By Associated Press).—Eamon de Valera issued a proclamation last night declaring that the only peace which can end the struggle will be one consistent with the nation's right and one guaranteeing freedom worthy the sufferings endured to secure it. The Irish delegates who are to meet the British representatives in London, he says, indulge in no foolish hopes, and he advises the country not to indulge in them.

The proclamation reads in part: "Whatever the difference of the past, it is to the interest as it is the duty of all Irishmen to stand together for Ireland now. Our delegates are keenly conscious of their responsibilities; they must be made to feel that a united nation has confidence in them and will support them unflinchingly. But they realize that the ending of the conflict does not depend upon their will or the will of this nation. The only peace that in the very nature of things can end the struggle will be a peace consistent with the nation's right and guaranteeing freedom worthy the sufferings endured to secure it. Such a peace will not be easy to obtain. A claim that conflicts with Ireland's right has been ruthlessly persevered in through centuries of blood; it seems unlikely that this claim will be abandoned now. Peace and that claim are incompatible.

"The delegates are aware that no wisdom of theirs will suffice; they indulge, therefore, in no foolish hopes; nor should the country indulge in them. The peace that will end this conflict will be secured not by the skill of statesmanship of the leaders, but by the stern determination of a close-knit nation steeled by acceptance of death rather than abandonment of rightful liberty.

"Of necessity Ireland must stand where she is, unyielding and fearless on the rock of right, or be out-maneuvered and defeated in detail.

"The power against us will use every artifice it knows in the hope of dissipating, dividing, weakening us. Unity that is essential will best be maintained by unswerving faith in those destined to act in the nation's behalf and a confidence manifesting itself, as hitherto, in an eloquent discipline."

MATHEWS CELEBRATE

Observe 131st Anniversary of
Birth of Rev. Fr. Mathew,
Apostle of Temperance

"There is more need of a temperance organization in Lowell today than ever before and the members of the Mathews, who have performed noble work for total abstinence should continue their endeavors and work hard to increase their membership not to 1000, but to 5000," said Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., pastor of St. Peter's church and spiritual director of the institute, during an interesting speech at the society's observance of the 131st anniversary of the birth of Rev. Theobald Mathew, Irish apostle of temperance, held last evening.

Fr. Keleher declared that the great need of such organizations was due to the fact that young men today, who in years gone by would never dare to frequent saloons, are falling victims

Welch for his many kindly acts in behalf of young men of the city. He then turned to the subject touched upon by Pres. Flaherty in his opening remarks in the university extension course and urged all members who possibly can to avail themselves of the opportunities afforded by these courses. He said that nothing is so invaluable as an education, explaining his own experiences as an illustration. He said that it has been his good fortune to mingle with many educated men in public life, and he has had the advantages of education brought to his attention very forcibly on many occasions. He also urged the young men to take an active interest in all public matters, study every issue carefully, discuss them here, and exercise all the great advantages of citizenship.

The accompaniment for the musical program was played by Paul Angelo, and among the soloists were Joseph M. Kelly and Matthew Ryan.

The members of the committee having charge of the smoker were as follows: Thomas J. Tighe, chairman; Walter M. Quinn, secretary; James Campbell, William Finnegan, Bernard A. Kelly, Frank Kelly, Joseph Geary, John Tighe and Edward Mealey.

to the various poisonous concoctions, and were bringing disgrace upon themselves and their families, and endangering their very lives.

"The important message of temperance laid down by Fr. Mathew," he continued, "should be conveyed to the young men of the city. Bring them into the organization, show them the advantages to be gained by membership, and if you do this, you are bound to continue to fill the important place you have occupied in the community for so many years."

Other features of the observance were interesting addresses by Supt. Raymond Welch of the Lowell police department, and Rep. Thomas J. Corbett, and a fine musical program. Refreshments were also served by an efficient committee of members.

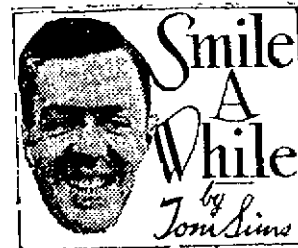

The hall was well filled when Pres. Arthur Flaherty called to order. He extended a welcome to all, announcing that the event marked the opening of the fall and winter season, and expressed his delight in seeing so many members on hand. He also outlined some of the activities planned for the season, particularly emphasizing the resumption of extension classes under the direction of Charles D. Foley. He urged the members to register for the classes this week, as it is planned to begin the work next week.

Fr. Keleher was the opening speaker. He expressed his pleasure at again coming before the organization to assist with them in honoring the memory of the apostle of temperance.

Supt. Welch was cordially greeted when presented. The "fig chief" was in good form and for half an hour he held the attention of the members with an interesting recitation of some of his police experiences. He cited incidents of where the officer was called upon to temper mercy with justice and how a kindly word is many times more effective than a severe reprimand.

Pres. Flaherty then announced that unexpectedly the assembly had been honored by Rep. Corbett's presence, the visitor responding to the invitation of a member of the committee to fill in when some of those on the program found it impossible to attend. He called upon Mr. Corbett for a few remarks and the representative's address proved a rare treat.

He opened in a reminiscent mood telling of the early activities of the Burkes and the Mathews and of the great work they had performed in the city of Lowell. He then recounted some of his experiences in the state

WOMENS CLUB HEARS CAROL PERRY

Members of the Middlesex Women's club at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon at Colonial hall, heard Carol Perry read an interesting group of poems by contemporary American poets. Opening with a selection by Walt Whitman, "Prayer of Columbus," Mr. Perry provided a most entertaining afternoon, explaining the differences in subject matter and meaning of the poets and telling a bit about the authors.

William Vaughn Moody, according to Mr. Perry, was one of our most gifted men and from his pen he read "The Gloucester Moors," following it with Edward Markham's "Man With the Hoe." Of Mr. Markham's other works he also read "Lincoln, the Man of the People." Interesting was Mr. Perry's interpretation of "Conquero" written by Vachel Lindsay, who gave the poem himself before the club some time ago. Mr. Perry also read Lindsay's "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight," and his poem on Gen. Booth, through which runs the refrain, "Are you washed in the blood of the lamb?"

Other poems included in Mr. Perry's program and which especially appealed to his hearers were Arthur Colton's "Hearts Hung Up in Babylon," Bliss Carman's "Sea as a Grave Digger," Sara Teasdale's "The Kiss," and two war productions which have now become famous, "In Flanders Field" and "I Have a Rendezvous With Death" by Alan Seeger.

URGE QUARANTINE TO CHECK CORN BORER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Proposals that the entire northeastern portion of the country watching from the west Indiana border to the Atlantic coast and from the Ohio and Potomac rivers to the Canadian line be placed under quarantine to check the ravages of the European corn borer, a new insect pest, were up for hearing today before the federal horticultural board.

The hearing was held at Washington representatives of the agricultural departments of more than a dozen states both within and without the proposed quarantine area, and agents of boards of trade, chambers of commerce, agricultural organizations and of grain dealers' associations from the middle west, south and northeast. The proposal gave all the appearance of being hard fought. States within the proposed area seek to prevent the quarantine and those without but adjacent to it seek imposition of restrictive measures.

The proposal of the board had its inception in the discovery of the corn borer in Ohio and neighboring states, particularly in the lake area. Portions of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York and Pennsylvania already are under quarantine and the extension, if ordered, would prevent shipments without permit from the quarantine area of corn, broom corn, celery, green beans in the pod, beans with tops and various other vegetables and several flowers.

THE ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

There is very much misgiving in certain quarters as to the outcome of the forthcoming conference of the limitation of armaments. In this movement the United States takes the initiative and will, therefore, be expected to set a worthy example in cutting down the expenditures for the maintenance of large army and naval forces. England, Japan and France will be the leading power represented at the conference from the old world. France is unwilling to make any reduction in land forces and England and Japan are equally unwilling to reduce their naval forces. The United States is willing to agree to any program consistent with national safety. At the present time, however, it seems that Japan is assuming a menacing attitude and adopting policies wholly characteristic of a military power with very definite aims of conquest under development.

Japan is asserting her control over a portion of Siberia and reports of her doings in that territory, indicates that she has adopted methods which are wholly unjustified and which under other conditions would have involved her in a world war.

The world war, however, has left the leading powers of the old world, with the exception of Japan, in a condition under which they have not the financial resources necessary to enable them to combat another war. They are, however, watching the movements of Japan and endeavoring by diplomatic means to check the aggression of that power carried on under various subterfuges. Japan is gaining a foothold not only in Siberia where she has adopted military methods for advancing her sway but she is also pursuing a like policy in China where her methods of peaceful penetration are backed up by military force where that is necessary to secure control.

Japan has retained Shantung which with the peninsula of Korea gives her a safe harbor for her vessels in case of attack. In the Pacific also, she is raising fortifications apparently with no other intention than to check any possible movement by the United States against Japanese interests.

The trouble with California relative to the treatment of Japanese nationals is not settled and it would seem that Japan is not very desirous of having it settled. She may wish to hold it as a smoke screen while she is extending her influence in Oriental nations.

With these things in mind it is not likely that Japan will agree to any great reduction either in her army or her navy. She is increasing her navy by rapid strides and adopting every new method of warfare as soon as its practicability has been demonstrated. When demands are made upon her for a change of policy, she may demand equal rights for her nationals in the United States. That is something the United States will not and cannot grant. In some quarters there has been a suggestion that the United States shall induce England to part company with Japan or in other words to sever the alliance which has existed between these two powers for several years. The United States could do that only by an agreement to enter into an alliance with England which she is not willing to do now, nor likely to do in the near future.

Altogether, therefore, it is doubtful if much will be accomplished at this so-called disarmament conference. It may bring as much obliquity to President Harding as the League of Nations brought to President Wilson.

BUT ONE REFERENDUM

At the last minute on the eve of the special election the legal authorities of the city came out with an explanation of what the referendum vote on the gas question will mean if by any possibility there should be a majority in the affirmative. It appears quite clear that there can be no second submission of the question to the people at least for the present. An affirmative vote in today's election would be a mandate to the municipal council to proceed according to the legal methods laid down to purchase the plant of the Lowell Gas Light Company. The city solicitor states that for this purpose the city council would have to pass an affirmative vote in two consecutive years and that thereafter the price to be paid for the plant would be fixed by the public utilities commission.

It seems that the entire question of municipal ownership is much involved and that it has been complicated by the adoption of our present charter. Originally the method has been that the first steps would be taken by the municipal council voting to purchase the gas plant in two successive years. Then the question would be submitted to the voters, after which the city commission would have something to say as to whether the burden was too great for the municipality to assume. We expect that the matter will be settled in the negative by the vote of the people today.

OUR WAR LOANS

Again it appears that certain newspapers are making an accusation in favor of the contribution of our war loans to the allied nations. In other words, they say that we have a billion dollars in England and some of the other powers, beyond the fact that this nation is now being embarrassed in several different ways, and that it cannot pay its service men who they are entitled to for their heroic services during the war when they were paid at the rate of a dollar a day while others working at home earned in a day the price of a week's pay.

We do not believe it would be just or right to the people of this nation from whom this money was borrowed, to cancel any part of this debt. Some of the nations to which it was loaned have been conducting war and building naval armaments with this money or its equivalent, while we are unable to meet the ordinary demands of our soldiers without incurring the risk of making the business depression worse than it is and adding to the tax burdens of the nation.

If the nations cannot pay at the present time, it is the duty of congress to refund the debt and give them a reasonable time in which to begin making payments. The refunding of the debts should not be left to any one man. It is a matter big enough to engage the attention of the representatives of the people and they alone should decide in what way this step should be taken.

ALL INTERDEPENDENT

Eighty billion dollars is invested in the farming industry. That is more than is tied up in railroads and manufacturing combined. William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Co., tells this to a farmers' meeting. He points out that all industries are interdependent, and that what happens to one affects all.

Wood's point is that industries should pull together.

Individuals are equally interdependent. Man who has a job may not be worrying about unemployment. He should be, for his job would be safer and pay more if all were working.

Break the misgiving of your watch, and the whole works stop. Depression in business affects all, just as quickly.

GENERAL WOOD

Major Gen. Leonard Wood retires from the army to become governor general of the Philippines, as the government wouldn't let him hold two jobs at once.

Seemingly, Wood retires to the far corners of the earth. But you never can tell. One man who served as governor general at Manila, became President William Howard Taft.

Will Wood travel the same road? Some think so. Wood has the ambition but it is doubtful if he will ever again be able to come to the front as a strong candidate. The soldier politician is not popular of late.

THE OFFICER JUSTIFIED

So far as can be learned, Officer Keegan was fully justified in shooting the gunman who had started shooting over a card game in a coffee house. The officer showed his courage in hesitating to disarm a desperado who held a reeking revolver in his hand. When the gun was pointed at the officer, it was time for the latter to shoot. Police officers are not supposed to stand up as targets for gunmen. Officer Keegan deserves to be commended for his courage. Had he hesitated, he might have been the victim instead of the gunman.

THE PENNY

Difference of a cent a pound means a difference of $97,334,450 in the nation's annual sugar bill, says the research department of the American Farm Bureau Federation. And a penny, added to gasoline, costs consumers $12,504,279 a year. Many great fortunes, also many big failures, are founded on these penny fluctuations. With fewer dollars running loose, the penny is gaining increasing respect. After government gets back to thinking in thousands instead of millions, it should study the possibilities of the penny.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

On one of my recent visits to the local court I couldn't help but notice the efficient work being performed there by Court Officer Michael J. Dowd. Mr. Dowd, during a session, needs to it that about a half a dozen and he keeps the persons in the corridor and adjoining rooms from causing unnecessary disturbance to the presiding justice. Mr. Dowd's work is often the subject of commendation by members of the bar trying cases, who opine that the best session is one of the most orderly conducted in the state.

I have noticed from time to time the heavy traffic at the junction of Merrimack and Pawtucket streets. Would it not be a good idea to have a traffic officer at this point? I have seen autos come flying across Pawtucket street and about down Merrimack street without anything that looked like a signal as to the direction in which they were to go. In 15 minutes while waiting for a car, I counted 26 autos at this point and only seven of the lot obeyed the rules of the road. A bluecut might help.

From all appearances I am of the opinion that the barn dance to be held in Associate hall, Wednesday evening, October 13, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Post 81, American Legion, is going to prove one of the most enjoyable and best attended social events of the season. The fall season. The boys of the post are co-operating with the ladies to a large extent as they are anxious to have the affair turn out a big success.

The good women are always ready to assist us whenever we are about to do something and now it's about time we helped them to do theirs. As a member of the Legion today. By the way I notice that a cordial invitation is extended to all the "Bubs" of the city to attend the dance, according to a placard being shown throughout the city advertising the dance.

It's the height of impoliteness, of course, to look into people's windows when passing along the street. And one recently expressed the idea of doing so if he stopped and stared. Any household would have a perfect right to call the police or pull down the shades. Sometimes, as in one of Lowell's hospitals, there are no curtains at all and people look into such places with a feeling of sympathy.

For days I have watched for the light of one of the best looking old gentlemen with hair and beard of gleaming white, propped up in bed and reading—always reading except one or two times when his room was filled with company. I've wondered what he read with such evident satisfaction and enjoyment. But—my friend, the reader, was gone when I went by the hospital the other night and no one has occupied that bed since. Then there's the little girl with the shiny curls and a perky pink hair ribbon who, perched on a high backed chair, practices her piano lesson every evening before dinner. It's always scales and exercises she's practicing—she must have just started her music studies—but she may make a musician someday despite the fact that a kitchen clock on top of the piano, placed there, presumably, to inform her when her period of practicing is up, undoubtedly distracts a deal of her attention. Best of all, however, I like the room where a young girl is usually to be found sewing—making Christmas gifts, from her smile and pleased expression. I think she must get a huge amount of enjoyment out of her work.

I was looking over an old history of Lowell the other day, and read with considerable interest about the life and performances of Mayor Elisha Huntington in local municipal affairs. Those acquainted with local history will recall that it was during Mayor Huntington's regime the city suffered from "The Great Freshet." Beasts were used in some of the streets of the city. History tells us that the earliest freshet recorded in this vicinity was in October, 1755. It is said to have been the greatest of which there is any record or tradition. At Nashua the rise in the river was 22 feet. At the head of Pawtucket falls it was more than 13 feet. Of course there was no bridge then to obstruct the course of the flood waters. The freshet in 1852 the water rose to a height of 14 feet. There were freshets in 1862, 1865, 1869 and 1878 when the waters reached a height of more than 10 feet.

The Christmas toy windows are beginning to blossom again. Saw a window display on Market street yesterday that would draw the children quickly if they knew what was displayed there. It won't be long, I suppose, before the stores on the main thoroughfares have their window space allotted for the Christmas show, and the children always get as much room as the elders.

Lowell court house officers are the pride of that institution. Always alert, attentive, quick to rush to the aid of clerks, judges and jurors, and watchful when spectators attempt to rush in or out of court sessions without observing the proprieties, these officials perform their work in a manner that merits commendation. When a judge addresses jurymen, you have to be either a lawyer or a newspaperman to get into the quiet court room. Outside must wait. The officers are quick to put the official "snore" on the curious and the noisy players. If you have business there, you will have no trouble, but if you have no business there, you will be informed that the air is better outside the court room. And the court officers are mighty fine judges of human nature and in some cases, regular mind readers.

Is the Lowell crowd with the Yankees or the Giants? That is a question that is not easily answered. Yesterday while listening to the returns of the game, it seemed that the crowd was very pro-Giants. When the Yankees scored their runs, the crowd roared, but when the Giants scored, the crowd broke loose. Today, however, the crowd is just as likely as not to be against the Giants. The average baseball fan is fickle.

INDIA REPRESENTED IN BRITISH DELEGATION

LONDON, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press)—The British delegation to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, and far eastern questions will include a representative of India, according to British official circles yesterday. The Indian delegate probably will be of Indian nationality. It was said, if he can be spared from official duties in the homeland.

This selection will complete the British delegation, with the exception of one other English representative, as it is expected official confirmation will be given to the nomination of A. J. Balfour, Baron Lee of Fareham, former Premier Borden of Canada and Geo. Foster Pearce, minister of defense of Australia.

The American ambassador, George Harvey, will break the long silence he has maintained since his memorable League of Nations address at the Pilgrims' dinner, May 19, when the society entertains the British delegates on a date which has been tentatively fixed as Oct. 20.

Announcing the Ambassador's acceptance of the invitation, the secretary of the Pilgrims said Mr. Harvey might make "only a few remarks," but there was a possibility he would take occasion to make a long pronouncement.

INSPECTION TODAY OF HOTEL GOODS

The Harristown hotel opened at noon today and will remain open until 5 p. m. for the inspection of lots that are to be sold at auction on Thursday.

It was not expected that the hotel could be opened at all before Thursday, but realizing the magnitude of the sale, Mr. Guyette took the matter up with the lawyers concerned in the involuntary liquidation and received word late last night, that Tuesday was the only day that inspection could be made.

The entire furnishings and equipment of the big hotel will be sold to the highest bona fide bidder. They are complete in every detail and include everything that goes to make the furnishings of a high grade hotel.

MISS M'ARDLE DENIES SHE PLOTTED MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Miss Mary Mc Ardle, aged 20 years, testifying in her own behalf yesterday denied she helped plot the murder of Daniel Kahr, her step-father, for which crime she is on trial, but declared she had often heard her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kahr and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Brickel, discuss the plans.

Miss Mc Ardle bared the story of her life in an effort to save herself from life imprisonment which the state asks on a first degree murder charge for alleged complicity with her mother or in the death of the Lakewood publisher.

Miss Mc Ardle testified that her mother and Mr. Kahr had frequently quarreled and threatened to kill each other, but she had never taken the threats seriously and said she had never had any trouble with Kahr.

A severe cross-examination by Assistant County Prosecutor Cassidy failed to confuse her. She held to the main points of her story that she had no part in the murder plot. Cassidy did make her admit, however, that at the coroner's inquest, a few days after the killing, she had testified that she never heard her mother and step-father quarrel.

Re Salvatore Cala, one of the two hired assassins who stabbed Kahr to death and who is now serving a life imprisonment term following his confession and conviction, and who preceded her on the witness stand, Miss Mc Ardle sought to shift the blame for the killing upon the shoulders of her 62-year-old grandmother.

She testified that her mother and grandmother frequently discussed the murder plans and that when she sought to remonstrate she had been told to "shut up."

Cala sought to shield Miss Mc Ardle in his testimony. He did not take the witness stand in his own behalf during the trial, his conviction being based largely on a confession made to police in Buffalo after his arrest there.

The defense practically completed its case with testimony by Miss Mc Ardle's school teachers, called as character witnesses.

GETS FOUR YEARS FOR LARCENY OF AUTO

With District Attorney Edlinott Peabody Sullivan, recently appointed successor to Nathan A. Tuttle, making his first appearance in that capacity before the Middlesex county superior criminal court, Benjamin Fine, of Cambridge and Lowell, charged with larceny of the automobile of Edwin M. Fuller, a local business man, was sentenced to four years' imprisonment by Judge John F. Brown at Cambridge yesterday.

It was the opening of the October session court and the new district attorney found three cases awaiting him. Fine's arraignment yesterday brought to light that his real name is not the one he gave the police, but is William A. Joyce, the name by which he was arrested and convicted times before. Fine, when he was called to stand from his seat in the docket, was immediately recognized by newspapermen and court attaches as William A. Joyce, of North Cambridge, a noted "climber" to the court in years past.

Investigation of the man's past disclosed the same record that was furnished the local police by the state A. Hall, unclassified, have won high department of correction shortly after his arrest and which was printed in

Berton Braley's Daily Poem OMNISCIENCE

THEIR'S only twelve people on earth, so they say, Who understand Einstein; but that isn't true. Twelve get him, perhaps, in a "relative way," But full comprehension is given but two; The deep inner meaning, the secret, the key, Is known but to Einstein, to Einstein and Me.

BY Einstein's great theory all things are clear; The tariff, domestic and foreign relations The weather we get at this time of the year, But, due to the average mind's limitations, The answers are known in their en-tir-et-es To no one but Einstein—but Einstein and Me.

SUCH questions as, "Why don't the taxes go down?" And "Why do the prices stay stubbornly high?" And "Where is a flat to be rented in town?" And "When will America really go dry?" And "Where can I get it?" Such questions can be Solved only by Einstein, by Einstein and Me!

WE'VE settled all problems, we've doped them all out, In seven dimensions, or maybe it's eight; When Einstein has found himself somewhat in doubt He's asked my opinion and I've set him straight; But what our conclusions are, ever will be A secret 'twixt Einstein—'twixt Einstein and Me! LOWELL BOYS STAND HIGH AT HARVARD

Three Lowell boys—E. D. Hutchinson, 23; G. K. Spyrounes, 23, and W. A. Hall, unclassified, have won high places in the Harvard college rank list. Hutchinson is in the first group of scholars; Spyrounes and Hall are in the second group.

The rank list is an outstanding innovation of the new year at Harvard, and is published on the recommendation of the student council. Students are ranked in six groups on the basis of their academic work last year. In the first group are listed those who achieved highest distinction in their courses; in the second group, those who attained distinction.

NOT TO GIVE UP NAVAL RESERVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The navy department has no thought whatever of permanently giving up the naval reserve force, President Harding said yesterday in a letter to Hugh Harley of the Philadelphia Inquirer, who asked for an explanation for the recent drastic cut in the naval reserve forces.

Disenrollment of four reserve classes was ordered as a step toward reorganization, Mr. Harding said, adding that the department was now engaged in drawing up, and would seek to have enacted a bill to cover the entire subject. He urged officers and men affected by the recent order to apply for membership in the volunteer reserve.

Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—

Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records.

Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Sept. 7, 1921

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Jacksonville Branch, Jacksonville, Florida, Gentlemen:—

I submit herewith the history of a 33x4 Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 37,000 miles. I have retreaded it seven times. The average mileage to each retread was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tire proper attention. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being as efficiently strong for its other tread. I am enclosing photographs under separate cover.

C. O. Pinner, Plant City, Fla.

The Harvey E. Mack Co., Thirteenth & Harmon Place, Minneapolis, Gentlemen:—

It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the use of Firestone Cord tires on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 29,000 miles. The second tire rolled up mileage of between 34,000 and 35,000. These were both rear tires and had been in use considerably by chains. The two front tires have gone better than 35,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of them. I need scarcely say that the Firestone Cord will be my tire choice for the future.

Lady So Weak She Could Scarcely Walk

After Years of Suffering Quickly Regains Strength

Mrs. T. R. Crane of St. Johnland, Kings Park, Long Island, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for years with non-assimilation of food, gas and bloating to a very distressing degree, nervousness, nervous chills, and irregular and weak heart action. I lost flesh and strength until I was scarcely able to walk from my room. My limbs got so numb and weak that when I tried to walk even a short distance I felt I must sit down at once if I didn't want to fall down. A friend told me that what I needed was Winacrisin, that it would be the best thing in the world for me. I took Winacrisin and such it proved to be in my case. It helped me in every way and did it quickly. I soon gained new flesh and blood, strength and vim. I feel alive once more. I always keep Winacrisin on hand for I found it a friend, tried and true."

Winacrisin is a Tonic, a Restorative, a Bloodmaker and a Nerve-strengthener all in one. It supplies to the system those mineral elements without which the body is absolutely unable to create necessary vital energy and nerve force. That is why Mrs. Crane improved so rapidly while taking Winacrisin. The same result has followed the use of Winacrisin in thousands of similar and equally pitiful cases. It has been recommended by more than 10,000 physicians who, from personal experience, have found Winacrisin to possess extraordinary power in promoting health in those who are weak, nervous or run down, or who are martyrs to indigestion or enfeebled by old age, or who are striving vainly to regain their strength after a wasting illness.

Winacrisin is put up in two sizes—$1.10 and $1.85. It is sold by Burkinshaw Drug Co., 416-418 Middlesex St. and all other first class drug stores. Write for free instructive booklet, "Hundred Per Cent Health—How to Obtain It," to Edward Lassere, Inc., Dept. G, 400 West 23rd Street, New York, U. S. Agents for Winacrisin.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

KEPTUS THEATRE

If the well-known three business men attended in an great number last night, and doubtless he did, and providing he does his duty during the week in telling others about it—well, there shouldn't be any empty seats. Keptus theatre and its audience, as long as the present bill remains, and neither should there be left a single example of the t.b.m. by next Sunday night.

For although Keptus usually provide good entertainment, the program of this week is of an excellence which obliterates any memories of past failures. It is a good bill for a holiday week and the three performances on Wednesday, Columbus day, at 2, 6:30 and 8:15 p.m., should draw well.

As to the feature number of the program, perhaps it was one or perhaps it was another, it was hard to tell—so perhaps it would be just as well to begin at the beginning.

The evening was started with a rush by Bert and Lotta Walton, whose whirlwind act of "A Song a Day a Dance" won a generous hand. It might be added that it isn't the song and dance which are received so enthusiastically—it isn't so good—but their excellent timing is the secret. Incidentally, Miss Walton plays three rather striking dance pieces.

When Jack LaVier appeared on the stage last evening, and a trapeze was let down a few minutes after, the audience wondered just what this big actor could accomplish. For LaVier is a big man, both tall and heavy, and there was considerable doubt as to whether he could perform gracefully in mid-air. He didn't. He was awkward, intentionally and seemingly so, and kept the audience in a continuous fit of laughter.

"Her Beautiful Romance" brought before the footlights Frank Fisher and Edrie Gilmore, who opened and closed with a song, but who gave their best in the sketch in which the two represented a married couple. It required a great amount of effort on the part of the girl, however, to make her lover ask the question, and it is in this dialogue that the two comedians score.

In Lowell, as in every other city where they have appeared, Claude and Fannie Lohr have a large number of followers who come to them without question, the leading place on the bill. Certain it is that in their production of "The Blue-Wee-Wee-Wee" which has been seen several times before but which is better than ever this winter, they have a vehicle which they can put over as no one else could. With her husky boyish voice and her delightful in her role of the "tough" young girl who comes to work for Dr. Kelly. There are times when, through forceful acting, she brings tears to the eyes of her audience, always she dashes them away with a bit of slang and sets the house to laughing again. Claude as Dr. Kelly also does some very effective acting.

An act entirely of their own making, usually offered on a vaudeville circuit is that given by J. Keith Brennan and Jimmy Rule, the well-known song writers who sing some of their own songs in a manner which is heard. Jazz, mighty little of it, mixed in to show the contrast with the better class of songs which they give. This pair of musicians was recalled several times for encores.

Pigeons, rabbits, cats and dogs, a little group of lovable animals known as Klutina's Entertainers conclude the bill with a well-trained act which causes the eyes of the audience to remain firmly seated until the last of them had been put through their performance. Perhaps the cleverest part of this act was provided by the cats who staged a boxing match, some high jumps and a balloon ride.

Savannah Negro Father of 32 Children

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 11.—A. B. Burgess, a negro, probably has the largest family in Georgia. He is the father of 32 children, and has had three wives. Twenty-six of the children are living. The negro has had seven sets of twins and two sets of triplets.

For although Burgess usually provide good entertainment, the program of this week is of an excellence which obliterates any memories of past failures. It is a good bill for a holiday week and the three performances on Wednesday, Columbus day, at 2, 6:30 and 8:15 p.m., should draw well.

The bill opens with some really remarkable moving pictures of birds and "The Fox and the Crane" and "Aesop's Fables" fame, is delightful. Concluding the bill is the Pathe News weekly.

LONDON PLANS WARM WELCOME FOR PERSHING

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—The British government last night telegraphed to Paris expressing its pleasure at the proposed visit of Gen. Pershing to the town of the British unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey, and Gen. Pershing is assured the warmest welcome.

A Paris despatch of Sunday night, quoting what was said to be a most authoritative source, stated that Gen. Pershing intended to call for home on Oct. 20, and would not go to London for the ceremony at the unknown soldier's tomb because of the lack of available time for the trip between the present time and his sailing date. If the ceremony was held, the despatch added, another American officer would be designated to represent the United States.

PAINFUL JOINTS

Seven thousand five hundred words is the average number spoken by a public speaker in an hour.

In no disease does the blood become thin so rapidly as in rheumatism. Not only does it become thin but it is loaded with impurities—the rheumatic poisons. Without proper treatment these poisons increase, the joints become a cripple.

There are a number of methods of treating rheumatism, most of them aiming to keep down the rheumatic poisons until nature can build up the blood sufficiently to overcome them. But unfavorable conditions of cold or dampness may give the disease the advantage and a relapse or renewed attack follows.

Good, healthy blood increases the resistance to disease. It is easier to keep up this resistance by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, eating proper food, avoiding articles of food that do not agree with you and getting plenty of fresh air day and night, than it is to cure the disease after it gets a foothold. Keep up the resistance of your body to disease by these tonic pills.

A book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. It contains directions regarding diet, baths and hygiene for rheumatic patients.

THIN PEOPLE

There are 30,000,000,000,000 Red Corpuscles in Your Blood and Each One Must Have Vitamins Before You Can Ever Hope to Weigh Normal

If you are thin, scrawny, backward and run down looking, and no matter how much you spend in clothes they fail to make you look dressed up and fashionable and you know the chief contributory cause of your wretchedly poor appearance is lack of normal weight, you should eat more vitamins containing vegetables such as lettuce, spinach and apples, and reinforce them from time to time when eating your meals with a little MEDIC-YEAST, which is rich in vitamins, the soul of the food, so well spoken of by scientists and chemists as a vital food element.

If you want to put on good solid, firm, lasting flesh and keep your below normal weight to normal with plenty of real nerve force, strength and vitality, you should obtain from your druggist a package of palatable, harmless, health-giving nourishment in the form of Medicinal Yeast under the name of MEDIC-YEAST. MEDIC-YEAST represents vitamins in a highly concentrated form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equal (in vitamin content) to coating two heads of lettuce, half a quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or six apples. It's like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. MEDIC-YEAST is partially digested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by your system.

To prove to yourself what MEDIC-YEAST will do try this simple, well worth trying test: Weigh and measure yourself, next take MEDIC-YEAST, two tablets with meals, then measure and weigh yourself again each week and simply continue taking until your gain in weight, looks and energy satisfy you—the scales, tape measure and mirror won't deceive you.

Thousands are using MEDIC-YEAST with meals to put on solid, firm, sturdy flesh, color in their cheeks and new strength and energy. Results are guaranteed or money refunded by manufacturers.

Dr. Howard and A. W. Dows carry MEDIC-YEAST. Your own druggist has it in stock or can quickly get it for you. For many reasons no other yeast can take its place.—Adv.

ALLEN TO MOVE TO CUST DIST. ATTY. PELLETIER

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Attorney General Allen announced last night following a conference with Henry F. Huriburt, president of the Boston Bar Association, his decision that charges brought by the grievance committee of the association against District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier of Suffolk county require that proceedings be instituted for the removal of the district attorney in accordance with the recommendations.

After considering the committee's report with Mr. Huriburt, Mr. Allen said he had decided that the charges set forth in the report sustained the position taken by the association in asking the district attorney's removal.

District Attorney Pelletier was charged by the council of the Bar Association with being culpable in an alleged "shake down" by lawyers in which $20,000 in one instance and $10,000 in another are said to have been paid to persons other than the district attorney. He also was charged by the council with failure to prosecute an alleged confidence man because a lawyer friend was attorney in the case.

As a result of the conference today it was announced as "probable" that Mr. Allen and the Bar Association would join as petitioners in bringing the information and that the attorney general and the association would each designate counsel to prosecute the information in the supreme judicial court.

"In accordance with his decision, the attorney general is having specifications prepared for the information," the announcement said.

Mr. Huriburt is intending to call a special meeting of the council in the immediate future to select an attorney to represent the Bar Association and to take any other steps in connection with the proposed action.

MURPHY CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR OF BOSTON

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Pine Commissioner John H. Murphy last night made a formal announcement of his candidacy for mayor of Boston.

The occasion was a meeting of the municipal election committee of the League of Women Voters at its headquarters, 2 Chestnut st.

Mr. Murphy outlined his platform in 14 points and emphasized the statement that the conduct of the affairs of a city like Boston is a business proposition and requires business judgment and experience. He gave the highest praise to Mayor Peters' administration and said that under the most trying conditions he has done his full duty.

In announcing his candidacy he said: "I believe that the right place to announce my candidacy for mayor of Boston is before the women voters. In becoming a candidate I am following the advice of many citizens of Boston and believe that now is the opportunity for me to do so."

In connection with Mr. Murphy's announcement, it is of interest that committees of the Good Government association and the republican city committee held a long conference on the mayoralty situation yesterday.

No announcement was made after the meeting, but it is believed that Mr. Murphy has good reason to anticipate that he will receive the endorsement of the Good Government association, which probably will not now be long delayed.

DEMOCRATS FOR LEAGUE Jas. M. Cox, Presidential Candidate Condemns "Abandonment of Allies"

DAYTON, O., Oct. 11.—The democratic party stands inflexibly, as we did when the polls closed last November, for the League of Nations with the United States as a co-operative part of it," former Governor James M. Cox, democratic presidential candidate last fall, declared in a message sent to the democratic club of Southern California, banquetting last night at Los Angeles.

"History will record the abandonment of our allies as an unworthy episode," the message continued. "It would have done no worse if our troops had been withdrawn from France on the morning of the battle of Chateau-Thierry."

The message follows:

"Let me extend my felicitations to the members and guests of our organization. The events of the past year, notwithstanding they brought fear, at the polls, are heartening to the cause of democracy. In the midst of chaos internally and uncertainty in republican policy, we stand inflexibly as we did when the polls closed last November, for the League of Nations with the United States as a co-operative part of it. It is infinitely better to maintain a vital principle even though it involve a temporary setback than it is to surrender honor to expediency for the mere purpose of winning an election. History will record the abandonment of our allies as an unworthy episode. It would have been no worse if our troops had been withdrawn from France on the morning of the battle of Chateau-Thierry."

The spectacle of regarding the Hay-Bunauville treaty as a scrap of paper just as we begin conference with a group of nations of disarrangement is a sad commentary on the behavior of a country whose life and traditions have been above reproach. Apparently the national administration is guided by its non-descript policies by the un-American elements that made its election possible. We are not a renegade nation and we

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Harry Fox, a balloonist of Charleston, W. ROBBERS RAID STORE AT EAST DOUGLAS

EAST DOUGLAS, Oct. 11.—Covering Partner Paul T. Manning, his assistant and two customers with guns, three strangers, who are believed to have come in an automobile, relieved the village store of about $125 in cash early last night and escaped. The post office, which is in the store, was not touched. Roads to surrounding towns are being watched.

Tracks of an automobile in which the men are believed to have made their getaway were found a short distance from the general store in which the office is located.

When news of the robbery spread through the town a posse of farmers was organized and scoured the countryside for traces of the men, but without result.
